Sam Carr Caught By Police in N.Y.

Extradition To Be Sought Of Key Spy Trial Figure

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The United States justice department said today the federal bureau of investigation has arrested Sam Carr, former organizing secretary of the Canadian Communist party.

SAM CARR
... Held by FBI.

The announcement said Carr was arrested in New York. It described him as a key figure in Soviet spying in Canada.

OFFICIAL SECRETS ACT

He played an important part, the department said, in the spy network which was exposed in September, 1945, after some testimony by Igor Gouzenko, a Russian embassy cipher clerk.

FBI director J. Edgar Hoover said Carr is wanted in Canada for violation of the Official Secrets Act.

Hoover said that the Royal Commission, set up in Canada to investigate spy rings, decided that Carr took an active part in recruiting soviet agents.

The Royal Commission, Hoover added, also said that Carr acted as a contact man for Russian officials and secured and sent confidential information to the Moscow government.

Hoover said Carr also assisted in faking a passport for a Russian agent known as Ignacy Witczak, who then lived in the United States.

Eighteen persons were brought to trial on espionage charges following the Royal Commission investigation.

ONE STILL MISSING

Nine were acquitted, one was fined and eight were given prison terms. Carr, who disappeared about the time the commission report was made public, is one of two persons known against whom charges still are outstanding.

Only Freda Linton, former secretary in government employ, now is still at large. She too disappeared before a warrant could be served.

In Ottawa, a justice department official said it is expected that Carr, arrested today in New York, will be brought back to Canada and tried, probably in Toronto, on charges of breaches of the official secrets act.

While Carr could not be extradited for breaches of the Official Secrets Act, officials said steps would be taken to circumvent this fact by laying additional charges.

In Toronto, national leader Tim Buck of the Labor Progressive party said he is "astounded" at the arrest of Carr, former organizing secretary of the party, in New York.

Mr. Buck said he last saw Carr in January, 1946, when he left for Cuba because of ill health. The party chieftain said that since then he had learned from newspaper articles that Carr had moved to Mexico and had understood he was still there. Mr. Buck declined further comment immediately.

Cold Snap To Continue Here

No relief can be expected from Edmonton's latest cold snap for at least a day or so. But the weatherman says it's not going to be as severe as the recent cold spells that gripped the prairies for more than a week.

Temperatures dropped to 16 below last night as colder air rushed in from the northwest and tonight it will go even lower, estimated low being 20 below.

Aside from the far north, where temperatures were 20 to 25 below, Edmonton was the coldest spot on the prairies this morning.

Estimated high for Friday is only five above.

Bevin Policy Is Under Fire

LONDON, Jan. 27.—(CP)—There was general speculation in political and newspaper circles today that Ernest Bevin's assignment as foreign secretary is under study at a cabinet inquiry into his Palestine policy.

The cabinet met this morning. Bevin was absent but William Whiteley, government whip, was called in. It was believed Whiteley was to report on the Labor revolt against Bevin last night.

The House endorsed Bevin's policy but only by a margin of 90 votes. It was the lowest margin of victory obtained during the present parliament on any major issue.

Princess Shows Near Recovery

LONDON, Jan. 27.—(BUP)—Princess Elizabeth was reported almost recovered today from an attack of measles and leading a near normal life at the Royal Lodge at Sandringham.

Sources close to Buckingham Palace reported Elizabeth was up and about yesterday for the first time since she was stricken last Thursday.

She dressed and walked for a short time through the grounds at Sandringham. Her father, mother, sister, husband and son also were there.

New Oil Field Hinted For Calgary District

A new oil field for the Calgary area became a possibility today following reports indicating a successful wildcat has been drilled by Anglo-Canadian Oil near Black Diamond.

The village of Black Diamond is a few miles northeast of Turner Valley.

Tests have been conducted on the well which showed a fairly strong flow of natural gas, rated at about 220,000 cubic feet per day, and some fluid has been recovered. The latter showed an increasing amount of naptha. Most recent test gave a recovery of 25 per cent water and 75 per cent distillate.

Testing is expected to be carried on for several days in an effort to define oil potentialities of the hole more exactly. Present tests are at 9,022 feet, including the interval back to 8,975.

Formation from which the oil is being taken is the "Medicine Lime stone," same as the producing formation in Turner Valley. Porosity of the rock, which determines the ease with which oil may be taken from it, is said to compare favorably with that found in Turner Valley.

Drilling of wells in this area takes considerably longer than in the comparatively shallow fields which surround Edmonton. The Anglo-Black Diamond attempt is nearly twice as deep as many of the producing wells at Leduc and between two and three times as deep as Redwater wells.

NEW POWER FOR VERMILION

MORE POWER to Vermilion is what Mayor J. W. G. Morrison is literally saying with his hand as he sends turbine blades whirling in the new $1,000,000 power plant. Five-year-old Marjorie Stack of Vermilion lends His Worship a helping hand. Turbines and boilers came from destroyers with a great record in the Second World War. New Canadian Utilities Ltd. plant supplies 6,000 customers with electrical energy.

Wider Probe Of CPR Hinted

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Mr. Justice M. B. Archibald, chief of the Board of Transport Commissioners, said today he has been considering an investigation into the physical properties of the Canadian Pacific Railway in connection with the current railway application for freight-rate increases.

He made this statement after some confusion had developed at today's hearing over a tentative improvement program submitted by the CPR calling for the long-term expenditure of $310,000,000 on the company's road property.

DID NOT TALLY

Both the chief commissioner and Saskatchewan counsel N. A. MacPherson suggested the new proposals—calling for additional yearly capital expenditures of $75,000,000 a year besides new non-capital spending of $13,000,000 a year—did not tally with earlier evidence given by the company as the financial basis for its rate-increase application.

CPR counsel said, however, it was being instructed now merely to indicate the company's need for more revenue to establish its position for borrowing.

Officials said the company was not committed to spend the amounts set out in the program, though it needed the road improvements.

DIFFERENT PICTURE

Mr. MacPherson took issue with it on the ground it set out a different picture from that presented earlier in the case by S. J. W. Liddy, assistant CPR comptroller. He said he wanted to know just who was presenting the CPR request.

Mr. Justice Archibald declared at this point that for several days he had been thinking of ordering the production of the CPR physical properties.

Election Returns Found Correct

TORONTO, Jan. 27. — (CP)— Queen's Park officials said yesterday that no discrepancies or alterations were found in an examination of deputy returning officers' certificates for the Ontario election last June in the Toronto St. George riding.

It was from these certificates that education minister Dana Porter was declared elected over CCF candidate Frank Frier and Liberal candidate John A. McVicar.

E. B. Jolliffe, CCF leader, had announced he would ask the next session of the legislature to set up a board of inquiry to examine the preparation of returns from the riding.

ALY VISITS PARIS TO SPEED DIVORCE

PARIS, Jan. 27.—(BUP)—Prince Aly Khan may be free some time next month to marry film star Rita Hayworth, his Paris lawyer said today.

The lawyer said papers in Aly's suit for divorce from his British first wife will be filed soon. Aly and Miss Hayworth arrived here today from the Riviera, and it was presumed he had come to sign the necessary documents.

Aly's present wife is the former Joan Yarde-Buller, heiress to some of the Guiness Brewing millions.

Miss Hayworth and the wealthy prince, son of the fabulous Aga Khan, whose Moslem followers give him his weight in gold and precious jewels at intervals, were expected to remain in Paris only a short time.

Local People Deny 'Red' Group Tie-Up

By Ted Horton

Letterhead used by Edmonton's red-tinted Council for Canadian Unity and used for circulars with an "Alberta Bill of Rights" contains the names of organizations unwilling to be associated with the council.

Members of the legislature and others have been receiving copies of the bill which would legislate against racial, religious or political discrimination in Alberta and would provide penalties for those who failed to give minorities the same rights as others.

Only two of the groups contacted in a survey conducted by the Bulletin expressed agreement with the Unity Council, and even they qualified their approval.

'JUST DON'T BELONG'

Included in the list of affiliated bodies was the ATA, elementary division.

This was taken to mean the elementary division of the Alberta Teachers' Association, but Eric Ansley, secretary of the teachers said today "We just don't belong there."

"There ain't no such animal" as an elementary division in the ATA, Mr. Ansley quipped.

He said his organization had a letter from Mrs. Beta Rowan of the Edmonton council that inclusion of the ATA on the letterhead was an "error."

U. ASKS DELETION

Mr. Justice H. H. Parlee, chairman of the board of governors of the University of Alberta said the name of the University's extension department should not have been included in the group affiliated with the Council for Unity.

He said a letter had gone to Mrs. Rowan requesting that any mention of the University be deleted from any further letterheads of the group.

The name of Amanta, a Latvian

2 More Die As Diphtheria Hits

Two Slave Lake Children Victims

Dread diphtheria has struck again in Alberta, this time claiming the lives of two young children in the Slave Lake area.

Deaths were announced by provincial health authorities today, bringing to three the number of diphtheria victims recorded in the province in the past week. There were only six diphtheria deaths recorded in the whole of 1948.

The second big outbreak of the disease today caused health authorities to issue a strong warning to all parents to make a double effort to have their children immunized. Dr. M. R. Bow, deputy minister of health, said today this was the only safe measure for any sensible parent to take.

SIX IN HOSPITAL

The Slave Lake outbreak, coupled with the epidemic at Nobleford (20 miles southeast of Lethbridge) has put six other children in isolation, and caused a quarantine to be effected at Nobleford where all schools have been closed and over 1,000 people immunized.

"We don't want to alarm the people," said Dr. Bow, "but we do want them to realize the necessity of having their children protected."

The provincial government provides anti-toxin serum free of charge, he pointed out.

Dr. Margaret O'Meara, medical officer of health at Lethbridge, has been called into doctorless Nobleford in an effort to curb the outbreak there.

SCHOOLS CLOSED

Dr. O'Mears has already closed the Nobleford schools, and recommended that two others in the district be shut.

New cases reported in the little community today are Mrs. D. Nyaff, whose son Kenneth is already in hospital at Lethbridge with the disease, and Ida Hann, 13, whose four-year-old sister died Sunday and whose other sister, Patricia, is in hospital at Lethbridge.

Details on the Slave Lake outbreak are still meagre. Names of the victims have not yet been announced, and all that is known is the fact they died in a lumber camp. Provincial authorities are investigating further.

B.C. Raps Yellowhead Road Route

Diversion of U.S. Tourists From Coast Feared

So far as the government of British Columbia is concerned the Yellowhead route for the Trans-Canada Highway is "out."

This was revealed by a responsible government of Alberta source today as announcement was made that the Alberta cabinet would meet Monday afternoon with delegates favoring each of the three routes which might be used across the province.

ALL MUST AGREE

It is necessary for all three provinces on the western end of the road to agree as to its location before the federal government is likely to advance any funds for road construction.

The attitude of the B.C. officials attending any inter-provincial roads conferences has been adamant, it was learned.

They refuse to discuss the construction of the northern route through Yellowhead Pass at all, either as the main or as a secondary road.

DIVERT TOURISTS

It is believed they are motivated by a feeling the northern road would tend to divert American tourists to other spots than Vancouver and the coast province.

Supporters of the Yellowhead route point to better results by presenting their claim to the government of British Columbia, it was suggested.

Monday's meeting will be in the legislative council chambers at four o'clock.

Dr. Coleman Named Minister To Cuba

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Dr. E. H. Coleman, former undersecretary of state, has been appointed minister to Cuba, it was announced yesterday.

Dr. Coleman, 58-year-old career man in the state department, succeeds Charles P. Hebert, who has been named ambassador to Mexico.

He is being succeeded as undersecretary by Charles Stein, former assistant deputy minister of justice.

A native of Renfrew County, Ont., Dr. Coleman was educated at the University of Manitoba in law. He is a former dean of the Manitoba law school.

St. Laurent To Visit Truman

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(BUP)—President Truman announced today that Prime Minister St. Laurent of Canada will come here Feb. 11 for conferences.

This will be the first visit of St. Laurent to the United States since he succeeded W. L. Mackenzie King as prime minister last year. Mr. Truman told reporters he got to know St. Laurent well when he visited Mackenzie King in Ottawa.

The Canadian prime minister's state visit is in response to an invitation by the president.

Mr. Truman said there would be no particular matters up for discussion during the visit and that St. Laurent's trip here has nothing to do with the North Atlantic Security Pact.

It's just a friendly visit, the president told reporters, in the interest of preserving the good friendship that now exists between the two nations.

In Ottawa Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent was expected to announce the purpose of his visit to Washington when the house meets this afternoon.

His office confirmed this morning that President Truman had invited him to Washington.

RCAF Join Search For Lost Plane

A pair of RCAF Norseman search craft left North West Air Command today for Yellowknife, where they will take part in search operations for a light commercial aircraft missing for the past four days.

Word of the long-overdue plane reached Edmonton Wednesday afternoon. The craft, operated by Yellowknife Airways was on a flight between the northern settlement and O'Connor Lake, 150 miles southeast.

SEARCH IN PROGRESS

Pilot of the downed plane or persons aboard are not known. The company is operated by Max Ward of Yellowknife.

The two Norseman which left Edmonton, today will join a search already in progress by other planes of the airways company. Both RCAF craft are fully equipped with emergency rescue equipment, and will drop supplies to the stricken plane if it is sighted.

Searchers looking over the area reported campfire smoke Wednesday in the district in which the plane is believed to be down.

Company planes were reported to have been conducting search for the missing plane during the past three days.

WEATHER IS GOOD

Weather at the northern outpost is expected to be good for search operations when the RCAF planes arrive there at four o'clock this afternoon.

Pilots of the Norsemen, despatched from NWAC "K" Flight, are Flt.-Lt. Paul Gibbs and FO R. Tretheway. Also on board the craft are Flt-Lt. L. Spruceton, FO R. V. Smith and Corporal Harry Fee.

Canada Favors $2 Top Price for Wheat

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Canada favors a $2-a-bushel maximum price in any new world wheat agreement, her delegate told the International Wheat Conference today.

Almost immediately the United States said she is willing to agree if "favorable provisions can be obtained on other points."

But the United Kingdom, one of the biggest wheat importers, took the buyer's stand: she expects "a substantial reduction" from the $2-a-bushel maximum, which was included in the never-implemented wheat agreement of 1948.

Dr. Charles F. Wilson, the Canadian delegate, said in an opening statement that Canada will support the price ranges as laid down in the agreement drawn up last March but never put into effect.

The Canadian stand, he said, is that these 1948 prices are "appropriate to give effect to the objectives of an international agreement, whether wheat is in scarcity or in surplus."

Tyrone-Linda Nuptials Super-Colossal Spectacle

By Norman Montellier

ROME, Jan. 7.—(BUP)—Amid a mob scene that would have done credit to a Hollywood epic, veteran actor Tyrone Power and glamorous starlet Linda Christian were married here today.

Their scheduled "quiet wedding" almost produced a riot. More than 1,000 police, many of them on horseback or in jeeps, were called out before a screaming, sighing crowd of about 8,000 women could be brought under control.

AMBASSADOR LOSES COAT

U. S. Ambassador James Dunn lost his overcoat in the crowd. His top-hat crushed and his starched collar wilted, he finally made it to Santa Francesca Romana church in time for the flood-lighted ceremony which united 35-year-old Power and his 24-year-old bride.

TYRONE POWER
... Mob scene wedding.

A platoon of jeep-riding police pushed the crowd back from the entrance to the lane leading to the ancient church, where Romans have worshipped for hundreds of years, as the couple left to ride to the Vatican, where they were received in audience by Pope Pius XII.

The Rt. Rev. William Hemmick, of Washington, D.C., a monsignor and canon of famous St. Peter's Basilica, performed the ceremony before 100 carefully chosen guests in the ancient church, and then said a wedding mass.

HALF AN HOUR LATE

The ceremony took place just before 11 a.m., nearly 30 minutes late. Miss Christian was slow in arriving at the church, and Power waited nervously for her.

That was the first hitch in a super-colossal production which

THREE NEW SCHOOLS TO BE BUILT HERE

Edmonton is to have three new elementary schools, construction to get under way as soon as possible.

Also under construction this spring, will be a four-room addition to Glenora school, to accommodate overcrowding in the Glenora-Grovenor district. Cost was estimated at between $35,000 and $40,000.

There are also going to get some changes made in the old Victoria high school. R. H. Rae and W. Butchart were appointed to investigate changes necessary, and it was hoped several classrooms would be available by September 1.

Edmonton Public School Board has announced that a 12-room school will be built at Strathcona Place, 114 street and 76 avenue, and 8-room schools at Inglewood, 125 street and 115 avenue, and Bellerue, 72 street and 115 avenue.

Cost of construction will be $300,009 on the 12-room structure, and $250,000 each on the 8-room schools.

It was hoped that building operations might be underway by spring. General plan of the five schools now under construction will be followed.

Discussion on the need for these schools took place at a school board meeting some time ago, but definite announcement was made Thursday morning, following a meeting of the property committee.

If enrollment by Sept. 1 warrants it, a double shift may be started at Westmount or Calder schools. Members of the board preferred a double shift to the alternative of using the old Sherbrooke school.

Tiny Snowbound Village Gets Aid In Time

WINNIPEG, Jan. 27.—(CP)—For the southwestern Manitoba village of Wakopa, 15 days of isolation because of snow-blocked roads have ended, but another hamlet—Neelin, 25 miles to the northeast—today was running short of coal and low on food.

A Manitoba government snowplow broke through to Wakopa, 135 miles southwest of Winnipeg, yesterday. L. H. Morgan, general merchant in the village, said trucks carrying 18 tons of coal and 1½ tons of flour followed closely behind the plow.

"They got through just in time. We couldn't have gone on the way we were much longer," said Mr. Morgan.

"Everything is pretty well under control in Wakopa now."

Labor Gov't Gets Marginal Victory

Lowest Majority In Session Approves Bevin On Palestine

LONDON, Jan. 27.—(CP)—By the lowest margin of victory obtained during the present parliament on any major issue, the Labor Government last night wrung grudging support for its Palestine policies formulated by Foreign Secretary Bevin.

The vote was 283 to 193, on a division demanded by opposition leader Churchill. It climaxed a 7½-hour debate and marked the first major cleavage between the government and the opposition on foreign policy.

In old-time form, Churchill railed at Bevin for his "folly, stupidity and fatuity" in handling the Palestine problem. Bevin listened impassively with arms folded.

COMES SOON

Bevin said he assumes that the "final act" of recognition will be taken in the next few days. It now was a matter of consultation with the Commonwealth and Britain's allies—France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The debate ended in an uproar as Prime Minister Attlee sought to defend Bevin against what the prime minister claimed was "a vendetta." Attlee accused Churchill of trying to work on the feelings of the people, and of suggesting that Bevin be removed from office.

Earlier, Bevin was under fire from a member of his own party—R. H. S. Crossman, Labor member from Coventry — who abstained, along with a party group. Crossman said:

"If any single man is responsible for the growth of Fascism on one side and Communism on the other it is the man who conducted British policy in Israel in the last three years."

At least 50 Labor members abstained from voting. They did so despite a reported last-minute appeal from Attlee, deputy prime minister Herbert Morrison and other leaders. As the house filed into the lobbies for a division, this group remained at their benches so there would be no mistaking their attitude.

The closeness of the vote led some anti-government newspapers to suggest that Bevin might ask to be relieved of his post at the next ministerial shuffle.

ASKS SUPPORT

Bevin, in opening the debate, demanded support of the Commons and the country in his policy designed to ensure security in the vital middle east.

Closing the debate, Attlee accused Churchill of shirking the Palestine question when the opposition leader heade ' the wartime coalition government. "Everybody in the wartime government knew that Churchill shirked the question," Attlee said.

Churchill had called for immediate government recognition of Israel. He drew support from almost all the members of his party, Liberals and the discontented Labor members.

Tyrone, Linda Wed In Rome

was everything Hollywood might have planned.

The setting was the tiny, ancient church, unheated because some of its windows have been broken for years. It was banked and decked with lilies, carnations, camellias, and potted palms.

Floodlights, powered by an Italian movie studio generator which was moved in yesterday, lighted the interior of the church. Behind potted palms and other tropical plants 18 cameramen were hidden.

White lilacs covered the kneeler on which the couple knelt for the ceremony. White carnations covered the altar. Calla lilies banked it.

A big electric organ had been moved in for the ceremony. Twenty-five boyish voices rang out from the choir loft. A male quartet also was on hand.

POWER ON TIME

Power—"Ty the Magnifico" to every newspaper in Rome today—arrived at the church at 10 a.m. on the dot—half an hour before the scheduled time for the ceremony.

Already hundreds of women were massed around the entrance to the lane leading to the church.

Really magnificent in an Italian-tailored cutaway suit and striped trousers, with special heels on his shoes to give him added height, the actor smiled as the women pressed toward his limousine, screaming, "Ty, Ty, Ty." But he made it to the church without too much trouble.

After inspecting the church, Power fidgeted and waited. There was some speculation that he might have been worrying because, due to the time differential, he still was married, in California at least, to the French actress Annabella.

Her divorce became final only today.

But the Catholic church did not recognize the civil marriage which bound him to Annabella.

PHONE CALL ORDERED

At 10:15, Power ordered one of his party to call Miss Christian. "She's already late," he said. "Tell her to come right away."

But it was another 30 minutes before the starlet arrived.

The bride wore white—lots of white. She was dressed in a classically cut white satin gown studded with rhinestones. It had a long train. Her veil flowed back from a tiny white skullcap, and she carried a sheaf of white orchids.

As her limousine drew up, the growing crowd surged around it, screaming "viva Linda."

As Miss Christian entered the church, the leaders of the crowd rushed the doors. The 30 0policemen already on hand, including a dozen mounted on white horses, were so busy themselves watching this spectacle in which all the men were handsome, all the women beautiful and all the surroundings glamorous, that they were caught off base.

FOOTBALL STAR USHER

As the first of the crowd reached the church doors, frantic ushers, headed by former all-American football star Mike Frankovitch, who is the husband of actress Binnie Barnes, slammed the doors and held them. But not before one sobbing woman had slipped in.

Some of the most important guests still were outside, however. Among them was Dunn, who with his wife was trying to get through the crowd. A special police squad was assembled and finally got them through, after Dunn had lost his overcoat.

The cries of the crowd could be heard clearly inside the church every time the door was opened. And every time another invited guest or two entered, several uninvited spectators made it too. By the end of the ceremony it was estimated that 400 persons packed the little church.

Police reinforcements arrived during the ceremony and fought the crowd back enough so that the couple and their guests escaped without too much trouble.

"MARRYING OIL WELL"

As they left the church, three girls in peasant costume broke through the police line, however, to present them a basket containing a white-frosted wedding cake, with tiny figures of bride and groom atop it. Power accepted it, thanked them with a flashing smile and handed it absently to the nearest person.

The bride was given in marriage by Leon Miglievitch, an old friend of her family. A Communist newspaper in Rome said that he and Miss Christian's father both were officials of the Anglo-Iranian Oil company and that Power "is marrying an oil well."

Her bridesmaids were her sister, Ariadne Christian, and Lunisa Costero, an Italian actress. They wore velvet and tulle 19th century style gowns—one shell pink, the other sky blue, and they carried orchids.

Nobody knew what their dresses cost, but Miss Christian's, made by the Fontana sisters, Rome's swank stylists, was said to be worth 600,000 lire. That is about $1,040 in Canadian money.

GREETED BY POPE

Power's best man was George Orenstein, of his studio, and his witnesses were Count Rudy Crespi and Count Guido Mians.

Going to the Vatican after the wedding, the couple waited in a large room with other persons and were greeted there by the Pope. Power had hoped that they might be married by a cardinal, but one of the actor's friends explained that the cardinal they had in mind was suffering from a cold and could not perform the ceremony. The Vatican said a cardinal would not be likely to officiate "because it is not regarded as of special importance."

Ambassador and Mrs. Dunn entertained at a wedding reception at the ambassador's residence after the couple had left the Vatican. There were 25 guests.

Power and his bride were to leave tonight for a honeymoon trip through Switzerland to Austria, where they planned to spend some days at a ski resort.

Eager spectators jammed the little church for some time after the ceremony. They stripped it of most of the flowers, carrying them away for souvenirs.

When the last of the crowd had gone, Father Ramiro Maria Capra, of the Benedictine Order, who is pastor of the church, said:

"Come back on our feast day. Come back and see the church then—just the church. There won't be any actors here then."

Deductible Boost On Tools Asked

Increase will be sought by the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce in the deductible allowance permitted farmers for the purchase of small tools under income tax regulations.

The Chamber will seek an increase from the present $25 allowance to $50.

Request for this increase was made to the council of the Chamber of Commerce in a resolution from its agricultural section.

Seven Persons Saved From Icy Mine Camp

VICTORIA, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Seven persons from icebound Muchalat Arm on Vancouver Island today were on their way back to civilization after being isolated at a tiny mining camp for a month.

The camp's inhabitants — six adults and one child—yesterday were taken aboard the tug Island Commander, now believed proceeding toward nearby Espernza where medical aid is available for the person reported sick.

On board the tug from the camp, situated on the 23-mile-long arm, 145 miles northwest of here, were H. K. Anderson, a miner, and his wife and three-year-old child; Jack Sloan, a miner, and his wife; William Sloan, Vancouver mining man and camp superintendent whose wife is suffering from exposure and cold.

FOUR OTHERS

Four other persons left before Christmas, it was learned. Initial reports said 11 persons were stranded.

Thick ice on Muchalat Arm made useless a 36-foot cruiser used by the settlement for transportation. The cruiser is being towed back with Mrs. Sloan aboard, too ill to travel on the tug.

The camp superintendent said the group had planned to wait another 48 hours before attempting to break out. They had been living on rationed food and hoped to get out if necessary by building an ice boat.

First reports of the marooned persons came to the storm-stayed heavy tug which had put in at nearby bay. There a fishing vessel crew told the captain of the reports and said Christmas supplies left at a Nootka wharf at the mouth of the arm had not been collected.

HEAVY GOING

The tug improvised ice-breaking equipment and managed to smash through five-inch-thick ice to the camp.

Meanwhile, further up the main coast, the little town of Stewart, B.C., received another two feet of snow Tuesday to add to the 19 feet already there. A vessel twice has turned back on attempts to get in with supplies. However, last night a report from there said food supplies were ample although fuel was in short supply.

China Peace Hopes Dimming Amid Charges

NANKING, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Prospects of peace in China dimmed today, both Nationalists and Communists accused each other of stalling.

The Nationalists were reported reliably to be bolstering a new defence line below the Yangtze valley.

The great commercial city of Shanghai and Nanking would be sacrificed, this source said, so that National troops, likely back under Chiang Kai-Shek's direction, could fight on.

Added to the general confusion were indications of dissension in the government of Acting President Li Tsung-Jen. He wanted to keep the government here, but the cabinet, which he may not be able to control, has ordered it moved to Canton.

Pyltone for Piles

Modern medical science knows the internal cause must first be removed. The new PYLTONE TREATMENT is the result. It is giving amazing results everywhere, simply because it goes directly to the inside cause of piles. (A liquid taken by mouth), it acts quickly on delicate internal tissue and swellings, restoring it to a healthy normal state. That's the difference with the new PYLTONE TREATMENT. You get results you expect with the first bottle or price refunded at once. With this new Treatment, pile torture is a thing of the past. $1.75 at all druggists or have him order for you.

Local People Deny Group Affiliation

group, is among those included on the letterhead as an affiliate of the Unity Council, but C. Dobell, an official of Amanta is emphatic in his denial that the group has anything in common with the Council for Canadian Unity.

HAVE WITHDRAWN

He said Amanta had at one time been associated with it, but had withdrawn when Communist tendencies of some of the council's members became evident.

"During my term of office as chairman of Edmonton Labor Council we did not send a single delegate to meetings of the Council," said Fred Macdonald who retired last month after a year in that post.

He said the matter of affiliation with the Council for Unity would not be definitely decided until further meetings of the labor group.

H. G. Carrigan, president of the local branch of the Canadian Authors' Association said the writers were not affiliated with the council.

"Some of our members may have attended meetings in the past," he said, "but there is no official connection between the two groups."

SITUATION NOT CLEAR

The Council of Jewish Women, headed in Edmonton by Mrs. A. Bercov acknowledged the Jewish group had been an affiliate of the Council for Canadian Unity at one time, but added the present situation was not clear.

"We haven't co-operated with them in the past very much," she said. "Continued affiliation is a matter which will have to be decided soon."

Mrs. Julia Kiniski, prominent Canadian-Polish citizen of Edmonton, said she did not know the Polish Progressive Society, another group listed on the letterhead as an affiliate.

Among the organizations listed as supporters of the local Unity Council is the Allied Arts Council.

Harold L. Weir, last president of the Allied Arts group said the organization had gone out of business during his term as president.

HAD NOT SEEN BILL

The Rev. J. T. Stephens of All People's Mission thought is was incorrect to call the Council for Canadian Unity a "leftist" group.

"They need some of us in the organization to keep it on a level keel," he said.

He had not seen the "Bill of Rights," he admitted. He pointed out he did not go "all the way" with the group on many matters.

Another group to express themselves as favorably impressed with the work of the Council for Canadian Unity was the Vasa Lodge 549, W.A.

Mrs. Magnus Pearson, a lodge official, said she thought the council did a "very worthwhile work."

"We send a delegate to every meeting," she said.

OTHER GROUPS LISTED

Other group names on the letterhead included the Edmonton Council for Adult Education, the Association of United Ukrainian Canadians, the Colored Canadian Industrial Association, the Bahai Assembly and the Federation of Russian Canadians.

Efforts by the Bulletin to contact officials of these groups were unsuccessful.

Worker Falls 14 Feet From Scaffolding Here

A local sheet metal worker escaped serious injury when he fell 14 feet from a scaffolding while at work on a construction job in downtown Edmonton Wednesday.

He is Walter Lord, 9303 84 avenue, employe of McCready and Johannson Ltd., tinsmithing firm installing a ventilation project at MacCosham Storage, 102 avenue and 104 street.

Lord received a severe shaking up when the plank of the scaffold on which he was working broke, and he fell 14 feet to the pavement.

He was taken to the Royal Alexandra hospital by city ambulance, where he is being detained for observation.

Much Expansion Planned By Edmonton Churches

Several Edmonton churches plan further expansion of their activities as a result of unusually successful programs last year.

This was revealed in annual reports submitted to congregations Wednesday.

Garneau United Church announced plans for a new church building. Metropolitan United church has raised $6,000 to finance a new hall and Holy Trinity Anglican Church completed a memorial parish hall, congregations were told.

Building plans are also under consideration by Knox United church.

At St. Peter's Anglican Church a parish council, formed Wednesday, will function as a liaison body to further activities of various church departments.

Garneau United Has Good Year

An unusually successful year was reported by all committees of the Garneau United Church. The minister, the Rev. D. C. Ramsey presided at the meeting.

Progress, it was announced, has been made on plans for a new church building, and the church's prosperity was increased.

The meeting which followed a congregational supper served by the Senior Women's Association, was well attended.

Reports received included those of the Session, the Senior and Junior Women's Associations, the Senior and Primary Sunday School, and the church choir.

Officers elected to serve on the Committee of Stewards for a three year period were: Mrs. D. Sharpe, E. L. Marles, Dr. H. E. Smith, Dr. W. H. Johns and J. M. Whidden. Gordon Robbins and Dr. R. G. H. Cormack were added to the Session.

Metropolitan Congregation Up

Congregation of Metropolitan United Church jumped by 143 members during the last year, it was revealed at the annual meeting.

Rev. R. M. Thompson, minister, presided.

Total amount of money raised during the year amounted to about $30,000, the treasurer's report revealed. More than $5,500 of this was raised for missionary purposes.

The report also showed that $6,000 has been raised to finance a proposed hall. The Sunday school raised $1,000 for operating costs and $316 for missions.

Following were elected to fill vacancies on the trustees' board: Dr. G. Y. Barnett, A. A. Chapman, Colin Campbell and G. B. Taylor.

Rev. R. M. Thompson, who is retiring as minister of the church at the end of June, expressed his appreciation to the congregation for the support they had given him.

Knox United Leader Honored

J. M. Douglas requested retirement from the board of management of Knox United Church.

Mr. Douglas had been on the board for many years and upon his retirement he was elected an honorary member.

Financial reports delivered from all departments indicated that $5,500 of $25,762 revenue was contributed to the missionary and maintenance offering.

The building and organ committees were combined and ordered to report to the congregation within one month.

Alex MacDonald addressed the congregation on its material needs and welfare.

Elected to the board for the first time were Walter Bates and Charles E. Scanlan. Re-elected: Dr. J. W. Campbell, William Carne, G. S. MacArthur, R. J. Muter, A. F. Smith.

After the benediction was pronounced, the congregation retired to the hall for a social hour under the auspices of the Women's Association. The attendance at the meeting was the largest in the history of the church.

Holy Trinity Has Good Year

Outstanding year was also reported by Holy Trinity Anglican church, with the completion of a new memorial parish hall highlighting the year's progress. The structure is of clinker brick and corresponds to the exterior finish of the church.

The congregation also approved plans for the proposed war memorial window to be installed in the church.

H. W. Tye was reappointed rector's warden, and H. G. Dyer was re-elected peoples' warden. A. H. Lord was returned as envelope secretary.

Vestrymen elected were S. B. Clarke, C. Crook, Dr. S. Davis, E. Ebdon, F. J. Fishburne, S. H. Gadier, G. Hare, C. Ingles, R. McLean, R. Molloy, H. Moss, A. E. Salter, J. E. Smith, W. B. Taylor and T. W. Walton.

T. W. Bull, F. J. Fishburne, S. H. Gandier, A. H. Lord, H. Moss and H. W. Tye were named delegates to the previous year, with P. C. Jamieson and A. E. Salter as alternates.

P. D. Fowler, T. H. Mackie and F. J. Fishburne were elected convenors of sidesmen, and T. W. Bull and R. Wood will act as auditors.

St. Peter's Plans Parish Council

A parish council will be formed in St. Peter's Anglican Church, it was decided at the annual meeting last night.

The council is to act in the capacity of a consultative body, giving all church departments a wider and more immediate knowledge of parish plans.

Encouraging reports from all departments were delivered at the meeting. The church was found able to meet all current accounts, both parochial and missionary, which reached a combined total of $3,000. Sunday school attendance has increased to a point at which it is taxing present accommodations.

The wardens for 1949 are Dr. B. J. Eastwood and Capt. A. F. Stafford. Vestry members will be A. J. Brown, W. Baldock, E. W. Bastock, L. Corness, G. Edgecombe, L. A. Exhard, R. J. Furnell, C. H. Guy, W. Harper, N. C. Lyster, E. Ledgard, H. Shell, and J. Williams.

SAFE RESISTS CRACKING TRY DURING NIGHT

In their first foray in many weeks, safecrackers were unsuccessful Tuesday night in attempting to force the safe at the Smith Cycle Shop, 10226 97 street.

Not entirely unrewarded they took $5.50 from an unlocked cash register.

Police investigation at 9:25 a.m. Wednesday revealed that the thieves had apparently entered the shop by unlocking the rear door. Attempt was discovered when Joseph Stafak arrived to open the shop Wednesday morning. He found the rear door ajar.

The safe bore marks of a hammer and pipe wrench which were found lying in front of it.

Health Committee Report Awaited

Report of a meeting of Alberta's committee on the provincial health survey will be handed to Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health in a few days.

The meeting in the legislative buildings on Tuesday and Wednesday discussed many phases of the federal-provincial health project, Dr. W. H. Sommerville, committee chairman said today.

It is known the committee approved grants for further training for health officers and nurses along with other projects in the same field, but no other details have been released.

Swimming Pool Revenue Boosted

Edmonton's three swimming pools showed an increase of $4,830 in revenue in 1948 compared with the previous year.

Total swimming fees collected during 1948 was $22,528 compared to $17,698 in 1947.

Revenue from the municipal golf links in 1948 was $17,990 compared with $18,906 in 1947, a decrease of $916.

Decline in revenue is attributable to the late start occasioned by unseasonable spring weather.

Speeder Fined

For exceeding the city speed limit, Raoul Sevigny, 11204 61 St. was fined $35 and costs in police court today.

Nine More Holes For Golf Course

Municipal Links Are Being Expanded To 27-Hole Layout

Congestion on the municipal golf links will be relieved this year by the construction of an additional nine-hole course.

City Commissioner D. B. Menzies announced that plans for the construction of the addition were being considered, and every effort would be made to have the course in operation this summer.

Estimated cost of the project is $12,000.

Approximate length of the course is 3,200 yards with holes having an average length of 355 yards.

Eight acres of land west of the Great ravine have been purchased from the Dominion government in connection with this extension.

The new course will be constructed immediately west of the present 18-hole links.

The new course would start from the club house, and will follow a south-westerly course skirting the cricket pitch, returning to the club house.

Bert Gee, club professional, Jack Myler, acting superintendent of the city's parks department, and Percy Earle, club groundsman, drew the plans for the addition.

12,000 MILES

Recklessness Charged To Safe Driver

A man who received a button for 12,000 miles of safe driving without an accident appeared in police court this morning on a dangerous driving charge.

Arthur H. Fast, 10435 139 St., was charged when a truck he was driving collided with a CNR boxcar on the 126 avenue crossing, near 97 street, early in the evening of Jan. 9.

The case is continuing.

Evidence indicated that work was being done along 97 street, and flares were on the road, which Mr. Fast said he confused with a switchman's lantern. He also claimed that the dark outline of bushes appeared similar to that of the boxcars.

Fred Loughon, CNR switchman, said he had to jump out of the way of the oncoming truck, which applied brakes too late to avoid colliding with the first boxcar. Unstated damages were done to boxcar and truck.

Herbert Hokanson, 12572 128 street, engineer of the train, testified that the train whistle blew prior to entering the intersection and that the bell was ringing.

Three Bootleggers Get $300 Fines

For illegal sale of liquor, a fine of $300 and costs or three months with hard labor was imposed on three persons in police court this morning.

They were: Hans Lassen, 9911 77 street; Alex Latuska, 9608 Jasper avenue, and Michael Flora, 9536 96A avenue.

1, 2, 3 AND 4; NO. 3 IS 1 WHO'S SORE

Police are looking for two men who allegedly took part in an assault on a third man for which a fourth man was charged.

Suffering extensive abrasions and cuts, a missing tooth and a cut lip, Emile Hargy, 10343 98 street, told police that he was with three men and two women at 4:15 this morning when an argument started. This was at a shack at the above address.

Two of the men and one of the women took him outside and beat him severely, he claimed. A short time later, the third man, George Ducharme took him outside, knocked him down and kicked him.

When police arrived, two men and one woman had vanished. Ducharme was charged with assault.

Hargy also claimed he lost $20 during the beatings.

TO BAN OR NOT BAN MARGARINE DEBATE THEME

To ban or not to ban the manufacture of margarine in Alberta? That is certainly the question today.

And the answer will be sought by the speakers bureau of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at 8 p.m., Feb. 7 in the Museum of Arts.

At that time a debate will be conducted on the resolution: "Be it resolved that the manufacture and sale of margarine be banned in the province of Alberta."

Gov't Car Licensing Plan Not Yet Ready

Driver's tests, permanent car license plates and any other changes in Alberta's automobile licensing system will not be introduced until a report on government car insurance has been received, Hon. C. E. Gerhart, provincial secretary said today.

A legislative committee headed by Hon. A. J. Hooke, minister of economic affairs, was set up at the 1948 session to investigate government car insurance in all its phases. The committee has completed its work, but the report has not yet been released.

It is not likely to be until the legislature meets Feb. 17.

There have been discussions in the legislature for some years on the introduction of tests for applicants for drivers licenses. This phase is know to be covered in the insurance committee's report.

Manitoba government announced yesterday it would issue permanent license plates in 1951. Mr. Gerhart said unless the insurance committee included such a recommendation in its report Alberta had not considered the suggestion.

LIKE OLD-TIME ELECTIONS

Fanfare Advertising Alta. Coal in Ontario

All the fanfare of old-time election rallies is advertising Alberta's coal in Toronto.

Alberta Hard Coals Ltd., offering an Alberta-mined hard coal under the trade name of "cantharcite" is splashing Toronto newspapers with elaborate advertising about the fuel that is able to "cut coal bills by one-third."

The ads, depict an eastern member of parliament, J. R. MacNicol peering into the furnace of a cantharcite-heated home in Toronto.

"Cantharcite burns like the best anthracite, bluish flame practically smokeless," the advertisement proclaims.

Another photo shows a six-horse team pulling a load of cantharcite: "They have horse sense, they lead the cantharcite parade," the ad. says.

It also advises that mayors and reeves "from all over Ontario" will "occupy the platform" at a Massey Hall mass meeting to hear reports from "scores of Toronto householders on how cantharcite can cut coal bills by one-third."

At Edmonton, officials of the provincial lands and mines department said Alberta Hard Coals Limited operate near Turner Valley, about 50 miles from Calgary.

A hillside mine there, abandoned for many years, re-opened in December, and department officials have been advised that a limited amount of coal mined has been shipped to Ontario "for advertising purposes."

Archaic Liquor Law

The thoroughly justified charge that the beer parlor regulations of Edmonton and Calgary are painfully archaic has been made by many labor groups in this province.

The Industrial Federation of Labor of Alberta has now joined its voice to this chorus.

Men and women may drink together in beer parlors in any part of Alberta except in the two principal cities.

The strict condition is that this exception makes for poorly conducted beverage rooms and for more drunkenness.

Actually it goes much further than that.

This archaic liquor law is making a laughing-stock of Edmonton and Calgary.

It cuts down the entertainment potentialities of the two cities.

And it is one of the factors that drive visitors and tourists away.

It is the height of absurdity that a tourist and his wife may drive out to St. Albert to drink a bottle of beer together but are forbidden to do so in Edmonton parlors.

The regulation is a bit of obsolete puritanism that is utterly incompatible with the needs of a city large enough to embark upon a real tourist program.

And the irony of it is that this puritanical measure gives anything but puritanical results.

When the sexes are isolated in beverage rooms, drinking tends to be excessive. There is none of the restraint in language, behavior and consumption that prevails when ladies are consorting with gentlemen.

The general trend of mixed drinking is towards more polite conversation and less downright guzzling.

Certainly the next session of the legislature should afford an opportunity for debate on this ridiculous prohibition that is making Edmonton and Calgary look silly in the eyes of visitors and which is placing the consumption of beer on the lowest possible level.

And Nothing Can Be Done About It

By Webster

The Post Office Comes Through

The Canadian post office department deserves commendation for ordering a letter carrier delivery service to the Grierson Estate in Edmonton.

Any act of justice is commendable no matter how belated it is.

And while the institution of this service to this group of veterans is certainly many months overdue, the play of obduracy seems to have ended happily, after all, with the post office department getting pretty much its own terms and the residents of the Grierson Estate getting what they wanted.

No comment on the fruition of this battle would be complete without an expression of admiration for the residents of this area who fought long and hard and courageously for the service which became symbolic of civilized rights in a civilized community.

The same qualities of determination which won these men distinction overseas, won them the privileges they are now about to enjoy.

It is notable that all the requirements of the post office department have not been fully met. But the department, wisely and generously, has waived these residual formalities.

The entire engagement was joined on the principle that nobody should push the little man around.

The Edmonton Bulletin is happy to have participated in it.

Speech From the Throne

Like every speech from the throne, the one read in Ottawa yesterday by Viscount Alexander is more remarkable for its omissions than for its revelations.

We learn that peace is going to be preserved by treaty and by the unification and co-ordination of the armed forces, that certain economic controls are going to be maintained, that crops have been good, that employment is at a high level, that inflationary pressures are decreasing and that the divine blessing is expected to descend upon the session.

But while these platitudinous announcements predominate in the document, there is a hint that highly important matters will make the session of unusual interest.

For instance, the government bill to abolish Canadian appeals to the Privy Council should provoke thoughtful discussion and it is hoped that the measure will be opposed with sufficient vigor to draw a clear distinction between private appeals and appeals touching constitutional issues.

There is grave doubt in the minds of many Canadians that the abolition of constitutional appeals would constitute any judicial gain.

The proposed royal commission to examine the activities of those agencies, such as radio, films, television, museums, libraries, that are calculated to enrich the national life, appears to be biting off almost more than one commission can chew.

Nevertheless, all these issues are vital and should provide lively discussion.

Of greater importance than almost any item in the speech is the forecast of legislation providing assistance for the building of a trans-continental highway.

This should provide an opportunity to thresh out on the floor of the house all the differences of opinion that retard the commencement of this highway. It should bring out boldly into the open all those hidden influences that are interfering with a forthright and definite plan of action.

The speech from the throne promises a lusty session.

But it falls to answer the two questions that are foremost in the mind of every Canadian:

1. When will the general election be called?

2. How much is going to be lopped off the income tax?

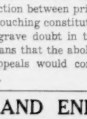
ODDS AND ENDS — By Harold L. Weir

No Privileges Without Civilized Obligations

There seems to be a pretty how-de-do down in Ottawa about family allowances for Eskimos.

It appears that the Eskimos' ideas about marriage and divorce are somewhat sketchy.

While a good many of them are legally married by missionaries, a good many more take and put away wives with what may loosely be described as reckless abandon.



WEIR

In other words, they change wives whenever they are disposed, which is pretty often.

Thus, a good lively Eskimo male may have three or four or possibly more families of children in his wake while he skips about blithely, like a silly butterfly, from flower to flower—if the scrambled simile doesn't make you sick as it does me.

The problem in Ottawa, then, was this:

Should these highly irregular unions be granted family allowances or should legal marriage be a prerequisite for the bonus cheque?

It was decided that if a native couple was married according to native custom, they should be treated exactly as if they had a regular marriage certificate.

One bright soul supported this position by saying that since there was no penalty in the Criminal Code for adultery, the fruit of adultery should not be penalized by being shut off from the government's beneficent slinging around of public money.

Idiotic Decision

With this idiotic decision I beg to disagree most violently.

I think it's rotten.

I am not one of those who believe in seizing the primitive by the neck and forcing civilization down his throat.

I don't believe in forcing the obligations of civilization too heavily upon people who are not ready for it.

I would not subscribe to calling by an ugly name those children of unions not formally sanctioned by the state.

I see no sense in forcing Eskimos into Christian or legal marriage if they have no conception of what marriage means.

It would be a great deal more sensible to offer much greater government aid to the missionaries who are gradually giving them that conception.

But I see no sense, either, in conferring the privileges of civilization upon those who are unfit for its responsibilities.

They're Not Citizens

This business of giving family allowances to primitive Eskimos who flit from wife to wife with the facility of a Hollywood movie star, but with somewhat more profilicacy, has a highly important significance.

It is not tremendously vital in itself. But it involves an extremely vital principle.

It involves the entire principle of Canadian citizenship.

It involves the prodigiously momentous question of whether or not the privileges of citizenship should be accorded to those persons who are not ready or willing to assume the responsibilities of citizenship.

It goes even further than that because it has to do with the definition of citizenship and the possibility that there may be two kinds of citizenship in this country.

Is citizenship something more than the ability to lap up the beneficences of government?

Can a man be regarded as a citizen at all who refuses to subscribe to the traditions and uphold the institutions of the country which protects and, in some instances, supports him?

Halfway Citizens

It is very difficult for me to regard as a citizen the man or woman who obdurately or indolently refuses to vote.

It is impossible for me to think of a person as a citizen who neglects to learn the language of the country or who clings to customs and habits and social practices that are not characteristically Canadian.

And it is sorry, very hard for me to bring within my personal category of Canadianism those persons who so far flout the customs of the country as to disregard our marriage law.

If the Eskimos in the Far North are sufficiently civilized to cash a baby bonus cheque, they are sufficiently civilized to be made to conform to our practices of wedlock

Letters to the Editor

Two Roads Required

Editor, Bulletin:—Re the present indefinite aura, which seemingly surrounds the prospective or possibly projected, Trans-Canada Highway, does it not seem that our arguments to date have not been sufficiently comprehensive?

When the dawn of mental clarity shall come to those custodians of the national purse, the Magi of the east, it may so transpire that Canada shall no longer be regarded and governed, as a frigid strip adjacent to the United States.

This may be true of small parts of our country, but from the Great Lakes westward, the expanding panorama of power, potentiality, and opportunity, surpass the understanding of those who have not seen and felt its magic.

In that empire of the West, which I would wish to bring to your attention, there lies a huge country, of such natural, agricultural, mineralogical, scenic and sylvan grandeur and dimensions as would stagger the imagination.

This area reeks of human progress and happiness yet to be, stretches northwards from the Great Lakes and the forty-ninth parallel, to the mouth of the Coppermine river and on to the genial waters of the Pacific. Never before in the recorded history of civilized man, has such a concentration of nature's bounty been, as now, available to the studied intellect and endeavor of any people.

Which road, or route, to be selected will be the question.

The sleeping beauty will never be awakened by a shoestring! Not one, but two roads, forking westwards from the eastern base of the triangle, should be built, both Yellowhead and Big Bend routes, first as a provincial matter, communication and feeder roads, of length, strength, and durability, to weld this land into a machine-unit of health, wealth and happiness for those who come to bear and strive, and share and live, in this rainbow realm of opportunity,

Yours,

FRANK H. HEIGHINGTON

New Farm Organization

Editor, Bulletin—The joint convention at Lacombe, Dec. 7 has passed away completely from the stage of the farm life of this province, the United Farmers of Alberta and the Alberta Farmers' Union, and now we have the Farmers' Union of Alberta.

Speaking as one of the few remaining in active farming operations in this province who has been a participating member of the UFA ever since its inception in those far gone days of 1909, and as one who for more than half of those years has been interested with official responsibility in that organization, we would not be human if we observed the last scene in this great drama of men and women and farmers pass off the stage of human experience without a sincere pang of regret.

It is true also that many of us who have spent the greater part of our active lives in that body even before the joint convention with a keen sense of disappointment in many instances at decisions arrived at and actions taken, that the voice of democracy has spoken. Majority decisions have been made and we are back in the organization instead of two. That vital objective which has been our pilot light, our goal for many years.

There remains to us now the tremendous task and responsibility of rebuilding from the two old organizations a bigger and a better organization for the farmers of Alberta than we have ever had before. Speaking as one who has had responsible experience in both labor and farm organization activities (I was a member of the Western Federation of Miners at the time I joined the UFA) I realize possibly more than the majority the immensity of the task ahead of us. At the present time we are at the peak of a period of inflation and starting down with considerable velocity the slope on the other side of the peak which is deflation, the period which has brought such loss and ruin to so many of our farm people and other citizens as well in similar occasions in the past.

Intelligently directed organization is one of our most important safeguards to meet such an impending crisis. Let us forget all our past differences and join together in one great fraternal effort to give effect to our two great objectives. That of rendering the maximum of service to the little gray farm homes of the West, and the most intelligent and effective mobilization of ourselves as citizens to meet the great problems of the future. The years, even the months and days ahead, are indeed uncertain. We must enter those days and hours treading the paths of tolerance, co-operation and organization to the end that hungry people in the world may have food and clothing and in doing so seeing to it that we as the food producers of this hungry world are dealt with equitably, an obligation which in many instances has long been denied us.

Yours truly,
JACK SUTHERLAND

Sale of Margarine

Editor, Bulletin:—I note in a recent issue of your paper the report on the Dairymen's Convention, and from that report of the proceedings, I extract the following for comment:

1. The resolution requesting the federal government to appeal to the privy council on the recent court ruling permitting the manufacture and sale of margarine in Canada.

2. The resolution that if margarine is permitted to be sold in Canada that it be colored in any manner or form which will best restrain its acceptance by the consuming public.

3. The resolution that a floor price of 62c per pound for butter be established for a period of 5 years.

Commenting on the foregoing in order: 1. If the dairyman desire privy council's opinion on the decision of the Canada courts, that is their business, and it should be their expense and their action to procure it.

2. Why should men of such stature as the leaders in the dairy industry permit such childlike innocence, or fear such legitimate competition by the introduction of distasteful or unwholesome coloring of margarine. An industry of such dimensions should set a leadership in morals and integrity.

3. A resolution that 62c per pound for butter be established for a period of 5 years. Reviewing the resolutions noted from the Dairymen's Convention, and the diabolical selfishness which prompts them, one looks in vain for the voice of a "gentleman," or the voice of an upright businessman who dolly fears no competition, but welcomes it, and rolls up his sleeves and sets to work to build and establish his own public favor and his own goodwill, the joy of the citizens is his life.

It can be truly said that there are a great many children of the dairy farm who also are today deprived of butter. Such a condition as this greatly enriches the coffers of manufacturers, and margarine, being equally nutritious, should be procurable for their use.

The time has arrived when the respective governments of this splendid country should disregard, indeed, in no uncertain voice, reject all appeals from class groups for class group protection, and fearlessly retrace their steps, (not doubting final results) to the old and ever precious Magna Charta, governing affairs with an independent fairness, whereby all citizens will be rightly, honorably and equally cared for and protected without fear or favor. The most generation is of a great deal more importance that the next election.

If margarine is a less costly product than butter, with any value of nutrition whatsoever, and, if the distribution of it benefits families, unable to buy butter, to have a satisfying product sustitute, let us at all costs build a robust, healthful next generation and grant their need in its most appetizing form. Why should an elephant be afraid of a mouse?

Protection on the sale of margarine is simplified by establishing a law with penalties sufficiently severe whereby margarine packed or wrapped in any form, such packages or wrapping must bear the word margarine in letters one inch in size, with the present staff of health inspectors picking up for test any packages which may be suspected of contravening the law.

Threat of Zionism

Editor, Bulletin—It is difficult to allow the recent Jew baiting letter of Mr. Martin remain unanswered.

The Jews who have been murdered, kicked around for 2,000 years, have the audacity to fight for a home, and seek an escape from the horrors of a European world which has cost in 10 years —6,000,000 Jewish deaths.

I hasten to assure Mr. Martin, however, that only a peaceful state exists in Palestine, the Elders of Zion will be to busy to continue with their dastardly plot against Christianity. I think the attempt to enslave Christendom will be delayed for some time. I think that the inhabitants of this small country will first want to get accustomed to living, working and amusing themselves as they please; being good, bad, or indifferent. In short being themselves.

After this no doubt the Elders will have more time for their nefarious work. What progress will be made is certainly a very serious matter. I do think, however, that Mr. Martin and his kind can thwart this foul conspiracy.

First by making it a paramount duty to always being alert, in order to hear God's message. While God is beyond the grasp of man, he speaks to every man through the life he gives them, Mr. Martin included. I confess that sometimes I get a little disappointed with God, inasmuch as he does not seem to be doing such a good job with Mr. Martin. I would like him to reveal himself to Mr. Martin just a little teeny weeny bit, and assure him that the evils and machinations of Zion are being closely watched by him. I would like to see Mr. Martin leave the Jewish threat in his hands. I am sure God will not betray him.

If a little of God's revelations can get through to Mr. Martin, I hope it will be revealing enough for him to learn something about his immediate neighbors. If he is not too dazzled by his theories he may find that anything alien to his liking need not necessarily be overcome.

He will find God's power superior to his zeal.

He will find God's power rendered to men faithful who defeat of the vile plot of Zion assured, without the aid of such allies as he.

Attempt To Unite Western Europe Takes Many Forms

PHILPOTT

Unless Canadians watch their step they are likely to become confused about the various plans for Western European consolidation.

"Western Union" is a bad, inaccurate name for the five-nation military alliance which already exists between Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

It is proposed to widen this alliance to include the United States and Canada and some other countries.

In the latter event, "Western Union" may become "Atlantic Alliance."

Outright Federation

The Western Union military alliance should not be confused with the proposal for outright federation of Western European countries. The latter is an attempt to unite Europe much as the 48 United States, or as the Canadian provinces are joined.

There have been many moves in the past two years to promote federation of Western Europe. I shall not clutter up this article by discussing all variations. But, as January, 1949, comes to a close, it is clear that the real decision lies between what the present French government wants and what the present British government is not willing to go nearly so fast nor so far as is Mr. Bevin.

The French plan is for an early convening of a European Assembly. This would be made up of delegates, selected on an agreed ratio from each European parliament which was willing to take part. The result would be a European Assembly.

The British Labor Government's plan is for a mere Council of Europe to which each participating country would send only one government-selected delegation. In all deliberations of this Council the rule would be "one country, one vote."

What Britain stands for is a "confederation" of Western Europe, and not a federal union on the present Canadian or U.S. model.

The essential feature of a "confederation" is that the real power remains with the home governments which send the delegates. In a federal union the final power rests with the central elected parliament.

South Tried It

The United States tried out a confederate form of government from 1776 to 1789. It was a terrible mess. Each state had its own money, tariffs, etc.

At the time of the Civil War in the U.S., the Southerners wanted to return to the confederate form of government. Only thereby could they keep their slaves.

I believe federal union of Western Europe alone would be a grave mistake.

You can argue, perhaps, for a federation of all Europe. That is one which took in all Europe in fact, including Britain, Russia, Scandinavia and Spain. But there would be more complications to the federation of those countries than there would be to the federation of the entire world, and few of the latter's benefits.

The federation of a few non-self-supporting countries at the western tip of Europe would be, as the noted French writer, Pertinax, says:

"Almost fatally, the resurrection of the Holy Germano-Roman Empire of a new form."

From Today's News

By Dewitt Mackenzie

President Truman's idealistic project of aiding backward countries is described by State Secretary Achesan as a proposal for raising living standards in order to promote political improvements and greater liberty. It would use material means for a non-material end.

Already talks are in progress between United Nations economists and the state department on the implications of Truman's idea. Over in Europe, Foreign Secretary Bevin pledges that Britain will join the United States in an all out "answer-to-Communism" crusade against poverty in Africa and the East.

Thus we are beginning to move from the broad conception of the idea towards concrete definition and details for implementation.

Don't let anybody tell you ideals don't count. They're about the only things that do count.

One of my early introductions to this thought came back in the First World War when I was attached to British general headquarters in France as war correspondent. The morale of many of the troops was buoyed up by the idealism of Woodrow Wilson in his call for self-determination of small powers and for making the world safe for Democracy. Day after day as I went up and down the fighting front British officers would stop me and ask eagerly: "What does President Wilson say today."

Such morale is needed today as it is in war.

But to get back to this thought of helping under-privileged peoples. You can't imagine how many folks fall in that category until you've travelled abroad.

I've knocked about a lot in the Western hemisphere, in Europe and in Asia. I've been in so many countries I don't know their number offhand. But I can tell you from personal observation that there are literally hundreds of millions of unfortunates who rarely if ever even have enough to eat. They are literally primitive peoples living centuries behind our time.

But doesn't charity begin at home? Sure it does and we've got a lot of inequalities to iron out here in North America. Moreover, we haven't any money to throw away.

However, that needn't prevent consideration of the idea of helping the other fellow, especially since by strengthening him we may help defeat Communist aggression.

Pipe Installation Blamed For Death

CALGARY, Jan. 27.—(CP)—A coroner's jury ruled yesterday that an "improperly installed" broken gas line was to blame for the gas explosion which wrecked the home of Mrs. Samuel Veiner here Sunday and fatally burned Mrs. Mary Exner, 68-year-old Calgary housewife. Gas company engineers said the line was buried only six to seven inches under the ground, contrary to city gas bylaws. It was not installed by the Gas company.

HEROISM OF WOMAN BRINGS RECOGNITION

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 27.—(CP)—A young Nova Scotia housewife, who plunged into icy waters to rescue a three-year-old boy although she was soon to have a baby, last night was awarded a bronze medal for heroism by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission.

Mrs. Mary Pearl McSween, 27, of Marion Bridge Cape Breton Island, N.S., saved Jerome P. MacMullin, three, from drowning in the Mira river near Marion Bridge, April 1, 1948.

Jerome had fallen unnoticed into the river at the edge of a firm snow-covered ice shelf extending 30 feet from the river's edge.

Three Injured In Saskatchewan Fire

LAMPMAN, Sask., Jan. 27.—(BUP)—Three persons are in hospital here as the result of a fire which destroyed the Co-op store and the living quarters above it. The blaze blocked the stairway and all persons upstairs had to escape through windows.

The three persons injured all suffered cuts. They are 16-year-old Glen Kerr, Douglas Third and an unidentified man. Eight others were made homeless by the blaze.

PARIS, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Leon Blum, 76, veteran Socialist party leader, has undergone a successful minor surgical operation, party sources said yesterday.

Honey Situation In Canada Said Serious

SASKATOON, Jan. 27.—(CP)—The honey situation is so serious that many Canadian beekeepers will be forced out of business unless they are assured of a stabilized market in the coming honey-crop year, Gerald Habing, member of the National Beekeepers' council, said here yesterday.

Speaking at the 13th annual convention of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, Mr. Habing said 20,000,000 pounds of honey remained unsold in Canada at the present time.

The federation resolved vigorous support of the council's request for federal assistance in establishing a floor price and developing an export market for the commodity.

Setting up a marketing board for poultry products by the federal government was contained in another resolution passed by the the federation. The board would be responsible for all export sales and price policies.

Agriculture Group Protests Rate Boost

SASKATOON, Jan. 27.—(CP)—The final public session of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture convention yesterday approved a resolution commending the organization's protest against the imposition of higher freight rates on farm implements.

All resolutions will be submitted to the CFA's executive board, and will not become policy unless accepted by it.

The meeting asked for the restoration of rural distribution of films by the National Film Board; increased compensation for cattle destroyed because of tuberculosis; expanded research leading t. the control of Bangs disease, and an early conference of federal and provincial governments and farm organizations to plan a way in which tested information and proven agricultural techniques could best be made available to farmers.

HEALTH INSURANCE

Dr. George Hoadley, head of the federation's health study bureau was assured its board would seriously consider a resolution on health insurance asking the federal government to move as quickly as possible to obtain co-operation of provincial governments in setting up a national health insurance plan.

A resolution on social services asked old age pensions of $50 a month at age 65, without means test. Floor prices for agricultural products and restoration of the excess profits tax also were asked.

3 New Senators Are Sworn In

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Three new senators were sworn in yesterday as members of the upper chamber, after pledging themselves to "Be faithful and bear true allegiance to His Majesty King George VI."

Thomas Farquhar of Little Current, Ont., J. William Comeau of Digby, N.S., and G. H. Ross of Calgary, took their oaths of office in a brief ceremony.

Senator Wishart Robertson, Liberal leader in the senate, accompanied all three as they were sworn in.

'Teen Gang Violence Alarming Toronto

TORONTO, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Toronto yesterday became alarmed—officially—about 'teen-age gang violence.

Police Chief John Chisholm told a special board of control meeting that full co-operation was needed to cope with the wave of teen-age "hoodlum lawlessness" which was "affecting public safety."

Controller Allan Lamport said some citizens were so alarmed they feared to walk the streets at night. He was prepared to organize vigilantes—patrols of citizens in each neighborhood to halt the outbreaks of violence.

Tuesday night swelled the total of the youthful hoodlums' victims. Two persons were attacked in a west-end restaurant and the night before a 17-year-old girl was attacked on her way home in a laneway and her face and hands were slashed with a penknife.

A 15-year-old boy who told police he had been attacked Tuesday night by "zoot-suiters" was arrested today after telling police that his story was a hoax. He will appear in juvenile court on a charge of public mischief.

In other recent assaults, two street-car conductors were beaten up, a 15-year-old boy suffered a fractured jaw and 12 youths were hurt in a gang battle in suburban Long Branch.

Several offenders have been caught.

One problem, Chief Chisholm said, was fear of reprisals by victims of the gangs if they identified their attackers to police.

Egyptian women in 900 B.C. carried vanity cases made of iron.

Peacetime Air Plan Expanded

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Naval headquarters announced last night expansion of its peacetime air program with the establishment of an instrument flying course at Dartmouth, N.S.

The course, at the Royal Canadian Navy air station, HMCS Shearwater, will be conducted by No. 1 training air group and eventually will be attended by all pilots of the RCN air component.

It will include high speed blind flying interceptions under radar and radio control and a variety of instrument landing techniques, headquarters said.

Instructions will be given in Harvard aircraft and Firefly trainers, a dual-controlled version of the Firefly reconnaissance and anti-submarine plane currently in operational use by the navy.

Iron Lung Birth

Warship Turbines Power New Plant

Vermilion Project Provides East Alberta Electricity

By Don Killips
Bulletin Staff Reporter

VERMILION, Jan. 27.—A chapter in the rapid progress story of Alberta was written and a milestone in the history of Vermilion was reached at the same time here Wednesday.

Occasion was the official opening of the Canadian Utilities Limited million-dollar power plant at this Eastern Alberta town—a plant that was literally built around valuable equipment salvaged from two war ships.

The new power producer for northeastern Alberta was officially put into action by Dr. J. L. Robinson, provincial minister of industries and labor, and Mrs. Robert Horne, wife of the plant superintendent. They performed the opening ceremonies.

$2 MILLION SET-UP

The plant and system, which extends over almost 2,500 square miles and serves 43 towns, villages and hamlets from Radway to Lloydminster, will mean an ultimate expenditure by Canadian Utilities of about $2,000,000.

It now serves 6,000 customers with the farms in the district still to be electrified. This will likely come to most farms next summer.

The plant would make an old sailor right at home. The big turbines and boilers are just as they came out of HMS Essington and USS Chase, two destroyers that came through the latest war with outstanding records.

The equipment had to be dismantled for shipment to its inland base, but all has been reassembled as it was on the ocean-going vessels. Some of it is not even repainted.

As equipment on the HMS Essington, part of it played a big role in the destroying of a U-boat during a four-day battle only a few years ago.

CONVERTED TO GAS

The four big roarship boilers have been converted to burn natural gas from Vermilion fields, instead of oil, but can be re-converted back to oil in just three minutes in case of emergency.

In just one year the boilers will use 300,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

Two smaller boilers used to distill all water also came from the vessels.

The new plant, which was started only last April on a site in the valley just north of the main section of Vermilion, will supplant two other fairly large plants—one at Lloydminster and the other at Vegreville. In addition it serves electricity to smaller communities which previously used very small plants that couldn't supply adequate current.

Lloydminster and Vegreville plants will be used as "stand-bys."

BANQUET HELD

At a banquet in the evening, tendered by Vermilion Board of Trade for Canadian Utilities officials and others connected with power in Alberta, Dr. J. L. Robinson, minister of labor and industries, said there is "great satisfaction in knowing the people in this district have an assured supply of electricity when they require it."

The minister also declared that the opening of the new plant shows a "growing necessity for increased utilities in the province and, with the resources being developed, the population is growing fast."

"There is a challenge to the company, though," he went on, "to keep the need satisfied. It will have to serve all the people of northwestern Alberta and in addition the nearby officials.

"There is, to my mind, three great satisfactions. One is that you are serving some 6,000 homes; second is the satisfaction on a job well done; and third is the satisfaction of the government to see the growth which is indication of progress.

Other speakers at the meeting included Bruce M. Hill, vice-president of Canadian Utilities Ltd. and Mayor J. W. G. Morrison of Vermilion.

Melville Hill, president of Vermilion Board of Trade, was chairman.

Military Honors Paid Air Hero

CALGARY, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Full military honors were accorded Sqdn.-Ldr. Fred Robert Gordon McCall, DSO, MC and Bar, DFC, at a funeral service for the First World War air ace yesterday.

Sqdn.-Ldr. McCall was one of Canada's greatest air aces during the First World War, being credited with 37 enemy aircraft shot down. He also played a prominet role in the development of commercial and private aviation in western Canada. He died at his home here suddenly last Saturday.

British industrial production in 1948 was about eight per cent higher than in pre-war years.

EXPANDS SERVICES

Completion of the new Canadian Utilities Limited, Power Plant at Vermilion means another large block of power available for the ever expanding needs of progressive Albertans. Canadian Utilities Limited has added 20,000 Horsepower to their generating plants in this province during the past year. Main generating plants are located at Vermilion, Drumheller, and Grande Prairie. Other plants are located at Youngstown, Bonnyville and Fort St. John in Alberta and Fort St. John in British Columbia.

From these plants Canadian Utilities Limited supplies the residents of a hundred communities with electricity which goes out on a thousand miles of high voltage transmission line. Power for the home and farm,—store and mill,—mines and oil fields plays a vital part in the progress of the community. It is the aim of Canadian Utilities Limited always to have plenty of power available and to extend it to unserved areas as rapidly as possible.

Canadian Utilities Limited is a business managed public utility ever mindful of its responsibility to its customers to provide good service at reasonable cost.

Ontario Is Facing Shortage of Gas

Controller Advises Against Export Of Alberta Natural Gas

CALGARY, Jan. 27.—(CP)—The natural gas supply in Ontario is "critical," A. R. Crozier, fuel controller for Ontario, testified yesterday before the Dinning Royal Commission investigating natural gas reserves in Alberta.

Under cross-examination by counsel for the city of Calgary, Mr. Crozier said Ontario's shortage of natural gas was due to the smallness of fields in Ontario rather than export of the gas to the United States. The city of Calgary has opposed proposals made to the Commission that export of Alberta gas be allowed to the Pacific coast and to Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

"Our experience has not been unhappy as you suggest, but rather a misfortune," Mr. Crozier said under cross-examination.

LEARN LESSION

"We only exported prior to 1905 from two seperate fields, Essex and Welland, and this was really a benefit to us in that it showed us that fields could become flooded and used up through export."

Mr. Crozier outlined the history of Ontario gas fields.

In a limited area of southwestern Ontario of about 1,000 square miles, development had gone on for some 60 years, with the odd new gas pool being discovered as late as last year.

GIVES ADVICE

However, he said, the situation was now so critical that arrangements for the import of gas from Texas were being made for Ontario's 150,000 consumers. He advised Alberta to use its "perfect fuel" wisely, to da as Ontario had done lately and give householders priority over industrial users which could use coal in an emergency. He also noted that Ontario had a producers tax on gas wells and a tax by municipalities and counties on 'pipeline territory.

Tuesday Dr. George Govier, member of the Alberta Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board, said the board would oppose export of natural gas from the Leduc oilfield if a possibility existed of this deterring crude oil production there.

Short Session Seen For Sask.

REGINA, Jan. 27. — (CP) — A comparatively short Saskatchewan legislative session was forecast yesterday by sources close to the government. The session, first for the 11th legislative, will open Feb. 10. The 1948 session lasted 36 sitting days and the one previous 45. Next month's however, may not go a full 30 days.

The prediction was based on apparent lack of contentious legislative, with the CCF expected to consolidate its position concerning past legislation rather than to introduce new regulations.

YIKE! NOW IT'S A TECHNICOLOR DINNER YET

LONDON, Jan. 27.—(Reuters)—Roast beef dyed green, cabbage dyed dark brown, potatoes dyed red and carrots dyed violet were served to four human "guinea pigs" in Britain as an experiment to show the importance of color harmony in the choice of food.

"The facial and verbal reactions of all four were quite violent," said Milner Gray, industrial design expert.

"A more practical test" was the free choice of cakes decorated in 21 color schemes.

Sponge cakes of the same size and shape were covered with fondant of various colors and given a decoration in a contrasting color. A strong preference was shown for a light base with a decoration in a strongly contrasting color.

Man's Frozen Body Discovered

Frozen body of Mike J. Golinovski, elderly farmer in the Kitscoty district, near Lloydminster, was found today in the granary of his farm, according to Edmonton RCMP.

Object of a four-day search by RCMP detachments, Golinovski may have been the victim of a heart attack.

Oleo Color To Be Governed

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Premier Kennedy of Ontario said in an interview yesterday that his government is considering the possibility of passing legislation governing the coloring of oleomargarine.

So far, he said, the Ontario attorney general's department had found no law forbidding a manufacturer to give margarine a yellow color.

However, he said he felt the dairy farmer has an "understandable grievance" on the subject of colored margarine.

"For generations butter has had a yellow color, so much so that it has become the trademark of butter. Dairy men feel that yellow is their color for butter and that margarine, whose original manufactured color is white, should be kept white.

"So far we have found no law against the manufacture and sale of margarine and have decided not to interfere with the sale of white margarine. We're continuing to look into the matter of coloring."

Struck By Truck, Man Badly Hurt

Struck by a truck as he attempted to cross 124 street near 117 avenue just before noon Wednesday, Larry Danchuk, 10822 98 street, was taken to Royal Alexandra hospital suffering from a fractured collar bone and concussion.

His condition is reported to be satisfactory today.

Driver of the truck, Fred G. Nelson, 11528 88 street, said he was going north on 124 street and when he started to pass a trolley-bus, he saw a man starting to cross from the southeast to the northwest corner of 117 avenue and 124 street.

He applied the breaks, but the body of the truck apparently hit Danchuk and knocked him to the street.

Reservists Leave For Camp Sunday

Across-Canada Highway Would Boost Lloydminster

By Ken Kelly

LLOYDMINSTER, Sask., Jan. 27.—(CP)—New life is stirring in this oil centre on the Alberta-Saskatchewan border where no producing well ever was drained dry.

Oilmen expect rich returns from the 25-square-mile field for two reasons: the west is becoming road conscious and oil companies are looking for new markets for Lloydminster's heavy crude.

JUST AROUND CORNER

Ever since oil first was discovered in 1935, Lloydminster has been waiting the great boom. It never came as it did to other oil centres, but the 4,000 citizens of this town feel it is just around the corner.

Lloydminster oil is a thick, black crude almost like molten tar. It has little gasoline or high-grade petroleum products, so companies looking for quick returns on costly outlays have paid the field less attention than other areas.

But, with governments in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba starting road-building programs, Lloydminster crude soon may be in greater demand. Asphalt, the road-maker's basic material, is easily made from heavy crude.

BIG ROAD PROGRAM

One plant already is turning out as much asphalt as possible from the nearly 2,000,000 barrels the field produces each year. Oilmen say the chance of a $12,000,000 highway program in Alberta this year is only one of the reasons for greater asphalt production.

Another is their hope that work on a trans-Canada highway will open a vast market for road-building materials.

But asphalt alone is not enough to keep almost 160 wells in this area pumping at top speed. Heavy-type fuel oils also are mainstays of the oil business.

A second refinery—now nearly at full production—plans to seek markets for furnace oils in western Canada.

BUNKER FUEL MARKET

The Canadian Pacific Railways announced recently it planned to change 100 steam locomotives to burn oil instead of coal. And the company will use bunker oil from Western Canadian fields.

Another natural market for bunker fuels is Vancouver. Many oil burning ships stop there for fuel. However, recent 25 per cent increases in freight rates have hurt producers, adding heavy freight tolls to already-high drilling, pumping and refining costs here.

Many oilmen hope the federal government and the board of transport commissioners will do something about high freight costs. They say that Canada's slim holdings of United States dollars are being drained by purchases of American bunker fuels.

Auctioneer Robbed

A broken padlock on the front door of Auctioneer Arthur Cload's premises just past midnight Wednesday, as Constable S. Pollock made his rounds, led to the discovery that $15.95 had been stolen.

Gerhart Tells Of U.K. Conditions

More than 100 members of the McDougall Men's Association Wednesday heard a description of conditions in Great Britain today.

Speaking at the monthly meeting of the association, the Hon. C. E. Gerhart, minister of municipal affairs told of his recent trip to Europe.

Great Britain, he said, is making tremendous efforts of rehabilitation. Her people are going all out to promote industry. One of the most important and significant facts arising from the Parliamentary Commonwealth conference held in London, was the existence of strong links binding all nations of the Commonwealth.

HARD-LUCK AVIATRIX DONS HIKING BOOTS

Hard-luck English aviatrix Mrs. Richard Morrow Tait, who wanted to fly around the world, but got sidetracked here after her plane crashed at Fairbanks, Alaska, has ditched her flying boots for hiking boots.

The former housewife and artist model started hitch-hiking to Dawson Creek, 495 miles from here yesterday.

Her Proctor aircraft, in which she tried to circle the globe, and in which she crashed at Fairbanks, Nov. 27, arrived here this week. She said she was shocked by the damage caused to the plane during a loading mishap.

So she packed up to go to Dawson Creek to investigate. While north she plans to visit Fairbanks and maybe Anchorage, then go on to Toronto.

Mrs. Tait is still looking for a company to provide a light plane with which she can complete her trip to England. She wants the loan of another plane on an advertising basis.

Her Proctor plane is to be abandoned and serviceable parts of it sold. After her plane crashed at Fairbanks Mrs. Tait arranged a series of speaking engagements in an effort to raise funds. But after one appearance at Calgary the scheme was abandoned.

Brothers of Victim Say Accused Had Gun

PORCUPINE PLAINS, Sask., Jan. 27.—(CP)—W. J. Fernuik of Carragana, Sask., testified yesterday that James C. Cummins, 45, charged with the murder Dec. 18 of Phyllis Hazel Connelly, 21, of nearby Carragana, had borrowed a rifle from him.

Mr. Fernuik, testifying at Cummin's preliminary hearing, said that when Cummins borrowed the rifle it had five bullets in it. Cummins had said five would be "lots," Fernuik said.

The crown alleges Cummins fired a bullet which exploded a lamp in Miss Connelly's home, burning her fatally. She died in hospital here Dec. 20. Carragana is 190 miles northwest of Yorkton.

Edgar Connelly, one of the girl's brothers, said he and another brother, Arthur, 20, had been with Cummins in a beer parlor until 10 o'clock. Later they all went to Cummins' shack. Arthur quoted Cummins as saying, "I'm through with her. She is over there with that guy."

The brothers said Cummins then pushed Edgar aside and left the shack carrying a rifle.

In the current year as in years past, we will endeavour to produce cotton goods at the lowest possible prices. Our efforts, and those of other Canadian mills, to maintain low prices despite higher costs of production and of raw cotton, won acknowledgment of the Prices Committee of the House of Commons. The Committee's report specifically noted evidence that the primary cotton industry had, since the end of price control in 1947, "gone a long way towards preserving as closely as possible the relationship with the ceiling price which obtained at the time of decontrol."

We take this acknowledgment as a challenge to us to continue with as strict a low-price policy as events will permit us.

In production we are making every effort to meet your needs. Through plant replacement and modernization we are endeavouring to keep our mills at the high level of technical performance which for nearly half a century has meant a steady flow of goods to Canadian consumers and employment for thousands of Canadians in the manufacture of first rate goods.

WHEN CANADA'S aircraft carrier HMCS Magnificent sailed from Halifax recently for Portsmouth, England, she was minus one four-legged sailor—Stoker (Mascot) Standeasy. "Standeasy" had not deserted his buddies in the stokers' mess on the carrier, but had merely drifted himself ashore for a course at the Mechanical Training Establishment at RCN barracks, Halifax. Stoker Standeasy is shown above getting a few pointers from Cmdr. J. S. Horam, RCN (left), officer in charge of the MTE, while classmate Leading Stoker Gordon Boyd of Victoria looks on.

Criminal Code Section 'Threat to Civil Rights'

VICTORIA, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Mr. Justice C. H. O'Halloran yesterday termed a section of the Canadian criminal code "a threat to civil rights" and an invasion of the constitutional freedom of the individual.

The acting chief justice of the British Columbia Court of Appeal referred to detention of Ivy Hess of Vancouver following his acquittal by the Court of Appeal Dec. 22. The acquittal quashed a police court conviction on a narcotics count.

BAIL MAY BE GRANTED

Section 1025A of the code provides that an acquitted person such as Hess may be kept in custody by the Attorney-General pending a retrial. During the period of custody bail may be granted.

It was in granting Hess' bail application that Mr. Justice O'Halloran said:

"The acquitted man may well ask why he is required to give bail to realize the liberty the Court of Appeal has already given him. The highest court in the province has said he is not guilty on the very charge upon which he is detained.

INVASION OF RIGHTS

"He may well complain that this is an invasion of his constitutional rights."

He charged the section flouted the authority and jurisdiction of the court, and tried to deprive a free man of his civil rights.

"If parliament may assume the power to set aside a decision of the court . . . there is really no use at all for courts in our constitutional sense. . . ."

Board At Westlock Discusses New School

WESTLOCK, Jan. 27.—Board of the Westlock Consolidated S.D. set the date for the annual meeting of the board with the ratepayers for Wednesday, Feb. 9, at 2:30 p.m., in the Memorial hall, at their regular meeting in the school.

Board members again went into the problem of accommodation for the coming year and inspected a rough plan, with approximate estimates of cost, for a three-room high school for the district which could be in operation for next fall's term. It was thought construction of such a building might be possible without recourse to debenture issue.

Two of the three members' terms expire on the board this year, those of H. E. Martin, trustee at large, and C. W. Anderson, trustee for Westlock town. Elections will be held at the meeting.

The Wednesday meeting is a change from the previous system of Saturday meetings, on motion by ratepayers at the last annual meeting.

Fire Destroys Condor School

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Alta., Jan. 27. — (CP) — About 50 school children marched out of the Prairie Rose School at Condor, Alta., 20 miles east of here, when fire broke out in the roof of the building. No one was injured. The students were eating their lunch when the fire was first noticed and all were removed in orderly fashion by school principal Mrs. Edith Russel. An unoccupied church nearby will be used for classroom space while the two-room school is repaired. No estimate of the extent of the damage has been made.

The may-fly, which lives as an adult for only one day, spends as much as three years in the larva stage.

DISTRICT NEWS IN BRIEF

Wetaskiwin Ups Teacher Salaries

WETASKIWIN, Jan. 27.—Teachers in Wetaskiwin will receive a salary increase of approximately $200 yearly, which will be reflected in tax bills for Wetaskiwin ratepayers. Increases will be retroactive to Jan. 1.

Negotiations between the Wetaskiwin local A.T.A. and the school board have been in progress since Jan. 1 and there have been a number of meetings between the teachers' representatives and the board.

The scale as now arranged, while less than that asked for by the A.T.A., it is said by members of the school board, will bring Wetaskiwin well into line with the general salary schedules.

The new salary schedules will have the general effect of bringing about a minimum salary commencement of $1,600. Credits for service, special training, degrees, etc., also bring recognized increases and while it would be difficult to assess the increase individually, the result, the board anticipates will have the effect of raising the general salary level by about $200.

Previous to this it was recognized salaries of the Wetaskwin A.T.A. local were rather below the general average.

Institute Assists Nurses' Home Fund

HINES CREEK, Jan. 27. — Women's Institute here sponsored a bingo party to assist in raising funds for the nurses' home and realized $207. A recent social at Eureka school for the same purpose cleared $100.55.

Bert; social welfare, Mrs. Martin Borstad; conference plans, Mrs. P. Slaymaker.

Viking Legion Curlers Advance

VIKING, Jan. 27. — Having won the Legion zone curling playdowns on the CNR line from Viking to Ryley, the Viking Legion rink defeated the Legion rink from Daysland here on Sunday by the score of 11 to 10 in a closely contested game.

The Viking rink will now play the Vermilion Legion rink and if they register a win will qualify to play in the semi-finals to be held at Red Deer.

Two Girls Incur Heavy Fire Loss

WETASKIWIN, Jan. 27. — Fire completely destroyed the one-room cottage occupied by Ruby Jensen and Phoebe Taplo here on Monday. The two girls were absent at the time and they lost clothes, furniture and even a new radio recently acquired.

Townspeople immediately rallied to their aid, assisted by Red Cross, which is directed by Ald. Mrs. Ann Newby.

Miss Jansen's home is 13 miles east of Millet and Miss Taplo is from Faiun. Both are employed in Wetaskiwin.

Vegreville Rink Cops Challenge

VEGREVILLE, Jan. 27.—A curling bonspiel held in Willingdon on Jan. 21-23 was attended by a local rink skipped by Loyal Tillapaugh with Red Cantrell, Russell Stuparek and Paul Korba.

Playing four games before entering the Grand Challenge, the final game was won against stiff opposition from the Mundare rink, skipped by Dr. Strielcuk.

Final score was 14-12 in favor of the Vegreville rink.

In addition to the cup, individual prizes of four robes went with the win.

ANDREW, Jan. 27.—Lamont Clinic is opening up doctor's office at Andrew Drug Store, where twice a week one of the doctors will be visiting regularly hereafter. The town folks and the farmers have been looking for doctor's office here for many years.

Ferintosh School Reports Credit Balance $3,016

FERINTOSH, Jan. 27. — Annual meeting of the ratepayers of Ferintosh School District No. 2345 was held at the town hall on Jan. 22. Ben Krinke, chairman of the board of trustees, presided.

Secretary Harry J. Bean, read reports of chairman, secretary, treasurer, auditor and inspector, John T. Shaw, principal of Ferintosh high school, read the teacher's report and all were accepted.

Inspector C. H. Robinson was at the meeting and took part in the discussions relative to the advisability of purchasing a piano for use of the school, and other matters with more legal aspects. The treasurer, Harry J. Bean, reported a balance in hand of $3016.00 with all bills paid, except those not yet due.

Nominations were made at the annual meeting for a trustee to fill the place of Paul Rutz whose term expired. George Ropcean and Douglas Carl were nominated. Carl was elected by a vote of 54 to 32.

BUTTONS CHART COURSE

LOWESTOFT, England—(CP)—Any Britain catching fish wearing little black buttons are asked to send details to the government's fisheries laboratory here. Thousands of plaice, dab and skate are being caught and "buttoned" and thrown back into the sea in hope reports of fishermen will enable charting of their seasonal movements.

Electric Franchise Vote Will Be Taken

RED DEER, Jan. 27.—Arrangements have been completed by the Council of the Municipal District of Red Deer for Benalto electors to vote on March 19 on granting the Calgary Power Company a ten-year franchise for electric light and power. The Board of Public Utility commissioners has approved the by-law.

Approval of two-thirds of the electors is necessary. Domestic rates proposed set a minimum of $3 per month (net) for the first 20 k.w.h., and an additional two cents per k.w.h. in excess of 20. New consumers will pay a connection charge of $1 and there will be a $6 charge for reconnection. Separate rates would cover commercial users and power services.

Where more than 250 feet of wiring would be required for installing a new service, the consumer would be charged the cost over 250 feet, plus an additional rate of half of one per cent of the actual cost of the extension over 250 feet.

Milton Trussler has been appointed returning officer by the M.D. with G. R. Sterling as deputy returning officer.

Institute Sends Parcels Overseas

VETERAN, Jan. 27. — Women's Institute is planning on packing parcels each month for Britain. There is a container in each store for donations and no matter how small the gift, it may be just what some one over there has been praying for. This is a cause worthy of support.

The girls Sewing Club under the direction of Mrs. George Mulgrove held their annual meeting recently and elected the following officers for this year: president, Ella Suchotzky; vice-president, Arlene Nelson; secretary-treasurer, Doreen Creighton.

53 Rinks Enter Annual Bonspiel At Peace River

PEACE RIVER, Jan. 27.—Largest entry in the history of the annual Peace River bonspiel was received and exceeded expectations. In all 53 rinks signified their intention to participate which comprises 27 local and 26 visitors. Early indications pointed to between 40 and 50 entries.

With only four sheets of ice and four competitions it became necessary to mark off three sheets in the Memorial arena and this was hastily done. The bonspiel started Wednesday morning and continues through Thursday and Friday with weather conditions becoming more favorable. The minus temperatures of the past week have given place to above zero mark. Billeting arrangements to take care of the visitors is the big headache.

The round robin contest to decide the northern representative in the Macdonald Brier competition in Edmonton commenced Tuesday morning with Dawson Creek playing Peace River and Grande Prairie playing Fairview.

CARIBBEAN ORANGE PROJECT

KINGSTON, Jamaica. — (CP) — Britain has concluded a 10-year agreement with the West Indies to buy concentrated orange juice up to a maximum of 5,000 tons annually. Plans are being made for wide expansion of citrus acreage and the installation of modern equipment for production of the juice.

Feller, Ott, Greenberg In Baseball News

HALL OF FAME is beckoning Mel Ott and Hank Greenberg as annual poll of Baseball Writers' Association of America started to name new members. Ott (right) 22 times a home run and holder of many National league records, and Greenberg (left) co-holder of home run record for right-handed batter (58) with Jimmy Foxx, are said cinches to be named.

CONTRACT DISPUTE has reared up in negotiations between 'fireball' Bob Feller and Cleveland Indians. Feller, 19-game winner with world champion Indians last season, earlier had said he expected a salary slash —about $10,000 worth—but in view of dispute it is evidently bigger than he had expected.

McDonald Point 'Crazy' As Stamps Drub Flyers

CALGARY, Jan. 27.—Calgary handed the injury-sickness riddled Allan cup champion Edmonton Flyers a lesson in heads-up hockey Wednesday night by trouncing them 6-1 in a Western Canada Hockey league game before more than 3,200 fans. Flyers played without Andy Cloveshoe and Bing Merliuk, out with injuries, and Bill Pettinger, a 'flu victim.

Centre Butch McDonald, returning to the Stamp line-up after missing five games, paced Calgary with two goals and three assist. Victory over the second-place Flyers kept Stamps close on the heels of the third-place Lethbridge Maple Leafs.

Don Culley also tallied twice for Stamps, while Bunny Dame and Archie Wilder got the others. Louis Holmes drove home the lone Edmonton counter in the second period.

Stampeders completely outclassed the powerful Edmonton sextet in the opening period.

Archie Wilder opened scoring after eight minutes of play with a long screened shot from just inside the blue line. Keith Woodall never saw it. McDonald repeated two minutes later by laying down a perfect pass to Culley.

Woodall rose to sensational heights in the second period to hold Stampeders to just two more counters as they filled a 22-shot barrage at him. McDonald banged home the first on a three-foot shot and Culley golfed a sizzling drive past the Edmonton goalie two minutes later.

Veteran Holmes put Edmonton on the score sheet at the 14 minute mark, golfing home Doug Anderson's pass.

Edmonton threw away any possible chance of overtaking Calgary with a series of third-period penalties that saw the clubs playing short-handed for the greater part of the 20-minute session. Edmonton drew six penalties, while Calgary was penalized four times.

Defenceman Pug Young of Edmonton and centre Red Hunter of Calgary enlivened proceedings late in the period with a flurry of fighting that saw a number of punches thrown by both after Young had tripped Hunter. Young was given a minor for tripping and a major, while Hunter drew a major.

Despite the six shots that eluded him, Woodall was the star of the Edmonton sextet.

SPORTS BULLETIN

Mel Ott, Greenberg Hall-of-Fame Bound

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Baseball Hall of Fame poll is on again and it is almost certain that in a couple of weeks two new names—Mel Ott and Hank Greenberg—will be added to the 55 already immortalized in the shrine at Cooperstown, N.Y.

Veteran scribes of the Baseball Writers Association of America—those who have been members for 10 or more years—have been asked to name 10 men for election. A candidate must receive at least 75 per cent of the total vote cast.

If the first vote fails to produce a choice, the rules provide for a second poll, in which the 20 leaders are presented and each voter is asked to name five. Players who retired before 1927 are barred. If none is approved by 75 per cent of the writers' votes after two ballots, none is elected.

CHAMPION SLUGGERS

Ott and Greenberg, however, ought to make it on the first ballot. Both were champion sluggers in their day, both made contributions to the game, and both were known as "nice guys."

This is the first year in which Ott and Greenberg have been eligible, under the voting rules limiting the list to men whose playing days are over. Ott's inactivity as a player in 1948 makes him eligible. Ott not only got his start as a player but was signed as manager of New York Giants last summer, bringing on the transfer of Leo Durocher from Brooklyn.

Greenberg ended his playing career with Pittsburgh Pirates in 1947 and last year devoted himself to front office duties as vice-president of Cleveland Indians. He became the minor league overseer this year.

Ott's baseball career is one of the most sensational in history. He came to the Giants from Louisiana at the age of 16. Twenty-two years later, he still was with the Giants having never spent a day in the minors.

RECORD BUSTER

In those 22 years, Ott compiled more records than any other player with the exception of Ty Cobb and Babe Ruth. He hammered more home runs than any other National leaguer. He also led that circuit in most runs scored, most runs batted in, most long hits and most extra base hits. A splendid outfielder with a fine arm, Ottie also played second and third base when called upon. And he reported to John McGraw as a catcher.

Greenberg was one of the most dangerous righthanded hitters in baseball. Only Jimmy Foxx, among the righthanded hitters in baseball history, ever swatted as many homers. 58, in a single season. No leader in the American league in runs batted in and in home runs. His lifetime batting average for 12 years with Detroit Tigers and one with the Pirates was well above .300.

WAKEFIELD SIGNS

DETROIT, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Outfielder Dick Wakefield delivered his signed contract Wednesday to become the 20th Detroit Tiger player to come under contract for 1949.

Speed Skaters Expect Big Entry

Officials of the Edmonton Speed Skating club expect an entry of some 250 skaters Sunday when they hold their city-wide speed skating championships, open to all from eight-years-old and up, at Diamond Park. Things get under way at 1.30 p.m.

About 40 skaters turned out Wednesday night for workouts under the guidance of Jimmy Woods.

In industrial accidents the fingers are most frequently injured.

BRANDON'S 20-GAME WIN STREAK BROKEN

WINNIPEG, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Brandon Wheat Kings' consecutive victory string in Manitoba Junior Hockey league play was snapped at 20 games here Wednesday night when they lost 4-2 in overtime to the third place Winnipeg Monarchs.

After spotting the league-leaders two goals in the first period, Monarchs roared from behind to knot the issue with six minutes remaining in the game. Their two overtime goals came within 27 seconds in the last minute of the extra session.

Brandon now has a record of 24 wins and only two losses. The first setback came in their fifth league contest.

Bobby Feller Balks At Contract Terms

CLEVELAND, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Bobby Feller spoiled the joyful mood around the world champion Cleveland Indians' teepee Wednesday by balking on terms of his fat 1949 contract.

Only a day after his manager, Lou Boudreau, cheerfully signed a two-year contract calling for an annual salary of $65,000 or more, the fast ball pitcher announced—just as smilingly after a conference with president Bill Veeck:

MINOR DISAGREEMENT

"It's simply a disagreement over the terms," said Feller. "I'm sure the Indians will draw this year. That's all."

But that number is important. The gravy in Feller's contract after a guarantee starter of $40,000-odd, has been in those attendance bonuses.

And it's there where the expected pay cut will come. Feller estimated the slash—before Wednesday—at $10,000. In 1947 and 1948 his salary is believed to have hovered above $80,000.

Veeck took the position the tribe would draw approximately as many fans as last year's record-breaking 2,600,000. Feller felt the 1949 attendance might not be as high.

BEARDON NOT SATISFIED

Yet Feller isn't the only member of the world champions showing a tendancy towards displeasure at his 1949 salary. For example:

Gene Beardon, the star pitcher of the World Series, wants to see Veeck about the figure in his proferred contract.

Boo Lemon, another important pitcher, sent his contract back unsigned.

In fact, only four contracts have been returned to the Indians' office, outside of Boudreau's. They have some front line important players and rookies.

Bellevue Trounces 'Hat Tigers 10-5

BELLEVUE, Jan. 27.—(CP)—The cellar - dwelling Bellevue Lions drew to within one point of Medicine Hat Tigers in the Western Canada Junior Hockey league standings by trouncing that club 10-5 in a hard-fought contest Wednesday night before about 1,300 fans.

After battling to a 2-2 stalemate in the opening period Lions went ahead 6-4 in the second and then outscored the visitors 4-1 in the final 20 minutes.

PICKS KEATS, SHORE, REARDON

Irvin's 'Dream Team' Makes Good Local Copy

Gloomy Dick Irvin, coach of Montreal Canadiens, recently selected his all-time, all-star hockey squad for a Toronto sportscaster.

The Irvin line-up makes good reading, too . . . where Edmontonians are concerned.

For one thing none other than Gordon (Duke) Keats won the pivot berth on the Irvin Dream Team. The great stickhandler of Eskimo teams of the 1920's still rates as probably the most talked about of the hundreds of puckstars who have come down the pike locally, in any way, shape or form, since the arena district opened for hockey more than a quarter century ago.

Eddie Shore, another ex-Eskimo, also taught a place on the squad, as all 'western' one, by the way. And as well Ken (Beans) Reardon, onetime EAC Junior, now with Irvin's Montreal team, clicked for the third defence berth.

Here's the all-star aggregation, one that will bring on a strong siege of nostalgia for the old-timers, especially:

GIANTS GIVE YOUNG HURLER $20,000 BONUS

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Ted Heitschmidt, 18, former all-around schoolboy athlete, has received a $20,000 bonus to sign to pitch with New York Giants.

The youngster, a right-handed fast ball pitcher, said Wednesday he had been ordered to report to the Giants at their Phoenix, Ariz., training camp Feb. 28. Heitschmidt first attracted attention of Giants scouts when he pitched sandlot baseball in Chicago.

Canadians 'A' Triumph By 1-0

Canadians A shut out Canadians B by 1-0 Wednesday night in a City Juvenile Hockey league contest at Stadium rink.

A second period goal by McNicol gave A's their triumph.

Bells Vanquish MacKillops 7-1

Bells handed MacKillop a 7-1 walloping in South Side Bantam Hockey league play at the Post Office rink Wednesday night.

Bob Lens, with three goals, topped Bells while John Watt, Ken Funk, Terry Mahood, and Herby Walford netted the other. Don Bryne tallied MacKillops' lone counter.

St. Anthony's Shade Concordia

St. Anthony's defeated Concordia College 6-4 Wednesday night in an Inter-College Hockey league game on the losers' ice.

Kremer, Fortier and Horvet each tallied a brace for the victors while Berg, Schroeder, Janzow and Luchi scored for Concordia.

LEGION TRIUMPHS

Canadian Legion blanked Singers 1-0 Wednesday night in a Pee Wee Hockey league contest at Eastwood rink. Norman Ulman caged the pay-off goal in the second period.

Wolves Get Even With Paris Club

PARIS, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Sudbury Wolves, Canada's overseas hockey representatives, Wednesday night defeated the Racing Club De Paris 4-2 in an exhibition game.

Wolves are playing a series of exhibition games before competing in the world amateur tournament at Stockholm next month.

The Racing club had defeated Wolves 5-3 in a game here Saturday.

Red Deer Bonspiel Hits 16s

RED DEER, Jan. 27.—Sixteens in both primaries, the L. W. Askin (Grand Challenge) and the Hotelkeepers, were filled by 6 p.m. Wednesday at the Red Deer Bonspiel. At that stage there were seven unbefeated rinks out of the 51 that started play on Tuesday morning.

Three visitors, Jake Mock, Stettler; Byers, Sylvan Lake, and "Doc" Crie, Calgary, were in there along with four from the Red Deer club, president J. F. Campbell, J. Lampard, J. Mackay and Doug Gray. Either Campbell or Lampard were due for their first loss as they were drawn to meet in the Hotelkeepers.

Weather continued favorable to provide right ice again yesterday and play moved along smoothly.

Wednesday's results included:

Commercial Hi Cagers Triumph

Commercial high school came away with victories in both senior and junior girls' exhibition basketball contests at Victoria gym Wednesday.

Seniors drubbed Vic 35-16 behind the sharp-shooting of Betty Strachan with 14 and Elsie McIntosh (13) Elaine Monson with six points was high for Victoria.

The junior game saw another lopsided score run up as Commercial wound up on the long end of a 22-20 count. Eleanor Panas topped Commercial with 12 while Mary Lou Fedoruk popped in a like number for Vic.

Commercial Sr.: Kolen, Corbett (2), McIntosh (13), Panas (2), Strachan (14); Raymond, Blackiock, Blair, Arbuthnot (4).

Victoria: McDonald (2), Crossman (1), Monson (6), Reid (1), Shugarman, King (11), Laughton (2), McLeod, Reid, Gowda (2). Total, 16.

Commercial Jr.: Panas (2), Bazat, Volochinski (2), Bitzis (4), Boyd (2), Frost (2), Leland (4), Colen (2), Johnson (2), Elliott, Melnyk (12). Total, 22.

Victoria: Hladun (4), Weiss, Fedoruk (8), Lutz, Tennell (4), Armstrong, Munro (2), Reid (2), Mitchell, Veronka. Total, 20.

McBeths Subdue Fergusons By 9-5

McBeths dumped Fergusons 9-5 Wednesday night in a South Side Bantam Hockey league fixture at Pipeline rink.

Reinhart, Heffel, DeRappard and Abell with two goals each and Strand with a singleton were McBeth's goal-getters. Harrison (2), Woytkiw (2) and Ghitter, with one, tallied for losers.

Red Wing Midgets Sock Rangers 6-2

Red Wings took a 6-2 verdict from Rangers Wednesday night in a Midget Hockey league contest at Eastwood rink.

Neville Morrissey, Jack Mellon, Don Jones, Charlie Holmes, Benny Stein, and Bill Bacyk scored for Red Wings, while Johnny Young and Ed Zemrau tallied for Rangers.

JOLTIN' JOE TO MULL OVER PAY OFFER

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Joe DiMaggio met with his New York Yankee bosses Wednesday to talk about his 1949 pay but they didn't get together on terms. After receiving an offer, the slugging outfielder asked time to think it over.

DiMaggio's salary last year was reported to be around $65,000 with a bonus based on attendance.

Hauck Powers Regina Past Lethbridge, 3-2

REGINA, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Regina Capitals edged Lethbridge Maple Leafs here Wednesday night to strengthen their grip on first place in Western Canada Hockey league standings. Victory gave Caps a seven-point lead over the second-place Edmonton Flyers.

Caps got away to a listless start and Lethbridge picked up a pretty first-period goal when Bob Kirkpatrick snared his own rebound near the Regina net and lobbed the puck through a tangle of players.

HAUCK TO FORE

Regina perked up later in the period, but drew nothing more than encouraging cheers from the crowd of 4,800. Caps did better in the middle session, particularly after Lou Hauck counted on a double pass from Ab McDougall and Harvey Barnes. It was also Hauck who banged in the winning goal at 2:25 of the third period.

Don Menzies was the other Lethbridge scorer. Chuck McCullough tallied a counter for Caps.

Near the midway mark of the sandwich session Lethbridge moved in with an attack which split Caps' defence. Kirkpatrick's pass from close in was picked up by Menzies, who gave Bentley no chance.

When Caps got their first goal four minutes later on the only three-way relay—Hauck from McDougall and Barnes—Lethbridge was stunt Bill Boorman, who was off serving a penalty for interference.

CAPS OPEN UP

McCullough tied it up at 2-2 with 44 seconds remaining in the period. He moved in with Schriner on a sweeping play, snaring the puck from Sweeney at the left of the net and making no mistake with his shot.

Caps went ahead for the first time in the game early in the third. Hauck, McDougall and Bill Kyle bore down on McManus with a series of short passes after a face-off in Caps' territory. Hauck got the counter.

LINE-UPS

Bears Invade Huskies' Puck Lair Saturday

Alberta's puck-chasing Golden Bears climb aboard the choo-choo Friday night for Saskatoon and renewal of their best-of-seven Halpenny series with the University of Saskatchewan at the week-end.

Series stands at two wins for Bears, one for Huskies and a 5-5 sawoff. Saskatchewan captured the first game 7-5, dropped the second 5-4, both at Saskatoon and then journeyed here where the Golden Bears another 5-4 call before the draw. As things stand each club has 29 goals.

Regardless of the outcome of the Saturday contest Bears get a rest from the series the following weekend. The green and gold will go airborne for a two-game stand against the University of Colorado, at Colorado Springs, Feb. 4 and 5.

Coach Clarence Moher of Bears says that the same team will take on the Huskies this trip that gained the victory and draw against the 'easterners' Friday and Saturday. However, it is more likely that if two games were needed to decide it all after Saturday's tussle they likely would be played here at Varsity rink, travelling costs being what they are.

It is estimated that one out of every five Americans enters at least two contests a year.

Potent Ponoka Rally Scuttles Wetaskiwin

PONOKA, Jan. 27.—Ponoka Stampeders scored four times in the second period while crushing Wetaskiwin juniors 8-3 in a Northern Alberta Intermediate Hockey league game played here Wednesday night.

The Ponoka splurge more than just wiped out a 3-2 edge that the visitors had assumed on Pat Haworth's goal at 3.34 of the frame.

CLINCHING RALLY

George Menzies then worked through with Grant and Kirstein to knot the count and at the same time set off the game-winning rally. Al Shantz, Spencer and Roy Jardine were the marksmen as the Ponoka margin went to 6-3 after 40 minutes.

'Zip' Greene, who had tallied for the Stamps in the opening period, came through with his second marker in the finale. Bill Gostick made it 8-3 with the last goal of the contest, less than five minutes from the finish.

As the squads split four goals in the first period Bill MacPherson and Wally Abbott were the Wetaskiwin snipers, with Idris Jones, as well as Greene, netting for the homesters.

Billy Graham Cops Unanimous Nod

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Billy Graham, New York Irishman, warmed up for his invasion of England by outboxing Fritzie Pruden of St. Catherines, Ont. Wednesday night before 2,097 fans at Manhattan Centre. Graham weighed 144¾. Pruden 143.

The verdict was unanimous for Graham, an accomplished ring stylist who should capture the hearts of British fans.

Ponoka Fans Eye Friday 'Natural'

Mercurys Provide Opposition; Don Stanley's Farewell Game

By Stan Moher
Bulletin Sports Editor

Jack Kelly and the rest of the hockey men down Ponoka way are looking for their rink to be loaded to the gunwales Friday night.

The reason? Edmonton Mercurys, top team of the Northern Alberta Intermediate Hockey league, will be in town for a clash with Roy Jardine's Stampeders.

This means that Don Stanley, ace point-getter of president Abe Aboussaty's swift four team loop, will be on hand, playing in his last game before heading overseas to join Sudbury Wolves. Also Harry Allen, Marsh Darling, Ab Newsome, Jack Davies, Bill Dawe, Pete Wright, Harvey Dodds, and many more of the cast that has carried coach Jimmy Graham's crew to the top of the heap will be hard after the homesters.

★ ★ ★

"We hope to pack the rink for this one," Kelly, who is secretary of the league, said Wednesday night. Certainly it shapes up as a 'natural,' overworked as is that poor word.

The Stampeders prepped for their Friday tilt with Mercurys by bowling over Roy Bentley's Wetaskiwin junior aggregation Wednesday, scoreboard reading 8-3 at the finish.

★ ★ ★

More than 1,000 watched the Ponoka-Wetaskiwin scuffle, proof positive that the longtime rivalry between these two bustling centres persists . . . Bill Gostick, member of Alberta's Willingdon Cup golf team in 1947, is a valued member of the Ponokans . . . Another Bill, this one of the Ingram family, is a busy puckster as playoff time rolls round . . . Not only does Ingram hold down a spot on the Stampeder rearguard but as well he doubles in brass as a defenceman for Clarence Mosher's University of Alberta Golden Bears.

Not long back, when Bears were hard at it against University of Saskatchewan Huskies in the Halpenny series, Ingram got stuck for seven games in one eight day stretch.

However, either Bears or Stamps will lose out on its services this week-end. . . . The collegians swing into action Saturday, being due in at Saskatoon that night to resume their best-of-seven series with the Huskies.

Actually Mercurys have a two night stand in the offing that will determine whether or not they finish in the top hole of the NAIHL . . . Thursday the motormen are scheduled for a contest at Camrose . . . The Maroons, four point- off the pace, still can catch their 'city' opponents in the two games each team has yet to play. IF—everything works out just right for them.

Sponsor Jim Christiansen tossed off a little going-away party for Don Stanley Wednesday night . . . Guests were Stanley's Mercury teammates, along with such puck big-wigs as Dr. W. G. Hardy, bossman of the IIHF, Art Potter, vice-president of the AHA, and W. (Bill) Ruff, of the AHA executive . . . Stanley will be gone just 15 days, should return in plenty of time to rejoin the Mercurys in their drive for the provincial intermediate honors.

OFFER FOUR MODEL T's AS 'SPIEL PRIZES

LINTLAW, Sask., Jan. 27.—(CP)—A bonspiel nowadays just doesn't seem to rate unless automobiles go to the big winner. So this curling-conscious community in northeastern Saskatchewan has jumped on the cars-for-prizes bandwagon.

Club here is sponsoring what they call the "Little World Series of curling." The prizes—four model T's.

Detroit Buys Tony Lupien

DETROIT, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Detroit Tigers bought some first-base insurance Wednesday when they acquired infielder Ulysses (Tony) Lupien from Chicago White Sox for the waiver price of $10,000.

Lupien, 31 years old, was waived out of the American league once before, when Boston Red Sox let him go to Philadelphia Phils in 1944, but the White Sox couldn't get enough to send the Harvard graduate to the minors.

Both Detroit and Cleveland filed claims for the first sacker and Detroit got first call for having finished fifth last season, far below the pennant-winning Indians.

Haddad Ships Out, Retires

VANCOUVER, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Eddie Haddad, Canada's top male athlete in 1948, ships out Thursday on the HMCS Ontario and retires from boxing at 21 years of age.

Haddad, a Winnipeg boy whose first loss came at the Olympics last year, holds the Canadian amateur lightweight title. He won the Manitoba lightweight championship in 1946 and later took the B.C. title, western Canada Diamond Belt and the northwestern United States Golden Gloves crown at Seattle.

A member of the Royal Canadian Navy, Haddad ships out as a second class stores petty officer.

Toronto, New York In Upset NHL Wins

MONTREAL, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Going was heavy for the National Hockey league's pace-makers Wednesday night as home crowds watched both the leading Detroit Red Wings and the second-place Boston Bruins blow decisions to lowly clubs.

Tailend New York Rangers humbled Wings 5-1, largely on the strength of a terrific performance by goaltender Chuck Rayner, who made 37 saves to 13 for Harry Lumley in the Detroit nets.

Meanwhile Bruins sagged into a second-place tie with the surging Montreal Canadiens, who edged Chicago Black Hawks 3-2 at the Windy City. Bruins lost 3-1 to Toronto Maple Leafs, who displaced Chicago in fourth place by a single point. Turk Broda was outstanding in the Leaf goal.

Rookie Jack Gelineau, newly-signed from McGill University's senior Intercollegiate club, turned in a workmanlike job in the Boston nets but yielded a goal in each period, Gelineau, the fourth Boston goalie in as many games, subbed for Frankie Brimsek who is absent because of the fatal illness of his baby son.

Point-Getters Have Lean Night In NHL Race

MONTREAL, Jan. 27.—(CP)—The National league's leading scorers had a lean night although all teams were in action Wednesday night. Sid Abel of Detroit was the only marksman in the select circle to collect a point.

He garnered an assist to move into a third-place tie with Montreal's Bill Reay. Chicago's one-two punch of Doug Bentley and Roy Conacher still set the pace with 45 points apiece.

ACA Bonspiel Leaves Gate Monday Morning

Automobile bonspiels or no, the 32nd annual offering of the Alberta Curling association, still ranked as one of the west's top 'amateur' 'spiels, commences here Monday morning.

Entries close Friday night at 8:00 o'clock, at which time the draw will be made. Already upwards of 50 entries have been received, indicating there will be no dearth of competition.

Rinks are coming from as far away as Yellowknife.

28 SHEETS OF ICE

Total of 28 sheets of ice will be used, including those at the Granite and Edmonton of the artificial variety. Both Doug Browne, president of the ACA, and secretary Jim McCool have been hard at work for some time, ironing out the wrinkles that always show up in an undertaking of this magnitude.

Committees have been appointed and the hope is that the week-long rock derby will run smoothly. Headquarters will be set up in the Macdonald, almost guaranteeing that the hotel will be a curlers' mecca all next week.

Drawing to the button: It can be assumed that prexy Browne and his executive slides sleep more peacefully as the ACA 'annual' draws nigh than did their counterparts of a few years back . . . Those artificial ice sheets at the Granite and Edmonton erase plenty of apprehension as to what the weather is liable to be like . . . A sudden thaw no longer cripples things as it did previously.

Recreation Commission's Learn to Ski program, cancelled during the last two weeks because of the cold weather, resumes Saturday with classes at 3:15 p.m. In order that lessons missed may be picked up, instructors have agreed to turn out on Sunday also, and classes will be held starting at 1:30 p.m. at Municipal Hill only.

Betty Mitchell Going To Norway

WINNIPEG, Jan. 27.—(CP)—A stenographer's life can be pretty dull and monotonous, but Betty Mitchell, 20-year-old Winnipeg steno, Wednesday sounded plenty excited as she gasped into the telephone: "Yes it's true, I'm going to skate in the world's championships in Norway."

And for the comely North American and Canadian senior women's speed skating champion, it is "the dream of my life come true."

First inkling Betty had that she would participate in the world speed skating championships at Kongsberg, Norway, near Oslo, Feb. 12-13 came when Percy Gemer, president of the Manitoba Speed Skating association, informed her that a government store (Hudson's Bay) had completed all travel arrangements for her trip.

Canada Files Davis Cup Entry

MONTREAL, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Canada has sent in her application for participation in the North American zone Davis Cup matches of 1949 and the selection committee for the Dominion's tennis team will be appointed in March, it was announced Wednesday.

MIKE JACOBS DERIDES JOE'S CHICAGO DEAL

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 27.—(AP)—Joe Louis will fight under sponsorship of the Twentieth Century Sporting club this summer and not in Chicago, promoter Mike Jacobs said Wednesday.

Jacobs scoffed at statements of Louis' lawyer Truman Gibson and Louis' Manager Marshall Miles that the heavyweight boxing champion isn't under contract any more to the Twentieth Century club in New York.

"Louis has been under a long-term contract with me," Jacobs said, "and I think you can depend upon it he will box for me again, not in Chicago."

Mitchum's Chum In Trouble Again

Robin Ford Nabbed By Police With Stick Of Marijuana

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 27.—(UP)—Realtor Robin Ford, 31-year-old co-defendant in the Robert Mitchum marijuana case, was arrested outside a Sunset Strip night club last night on narcotics charges.

Detectives said they found one stick of marijuana in his hip pocket.

Ford, actress Lila Leeds and film star Robert Mitchum were convicted Jan. 10 of conspiracy to possess narcotics, and are awaiting probation hearing and sentence. They and dancer Vickie Evans were arrested in a hillside "marijuana den" Sept. 1.

"I hope this doesn't hurt the others' chances," Ford said after his arrest.

FORD PUZZLED

Police narcotics officers said they found the "stick" wrapped in cellophane in his pocket. Ford said he couldn't understand how it got there.

"I'm not crazy," he declared. "I'm just a hard luck guy."

He was arrested in front of the Angel Room, a hangout for jive musicals and disc jockeys. He was sitting in musician Bobby True's late model sedan with True when the officers moved in. True was not arrested.

WERE FOLLOWED

The officers had followed the pair from the cafe to Ford's home, watched him disappear into the house for a few minutes, and then followed them back to the Angel Room. They went into the club and had just returned to the car when the arrest was made.

Margarine Appeal Asked

SASKATOON, Jan. 27.—(CP) — Despite appeals fro mthree westerners not to depart from a traditional principle of "no protection," the public session of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture yesterday endorsed the policy of the Dairy Farmers of Canada.

The Dairy Farmers' group would appeal the recent Supreme Court decision legalizing the sale and manufacture of margarine and restrict its sale while the appeal was pending.

George Edwards of Markinch, former president of both the Saskatchewan Grain Growers and the Canadian Council of Agriculture, said that if farmers departed from principle on the matter, it would react against them.

He felt dairymen should seek freer trade and the removal of restrictions hampering the betterment of their position.

U.S. Army Secretary Says War 'Possibility'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(BUP)—U.S. army secretary Kenneth C. Royall said today war is not imminent, but is "at least a possibility."

Royall said there is [illegible] that international tension will exist for a number of years.

He testified before the house armed services committee as the committee opened hearings on a bill to fix army strength and to authorize a 70-group air force.

"Our best estimate of the world situation does not indicate that war is imminent," Royall said in a prepared statement.

"However, war is at least a possibility.

"And there appears little likelihood that for a number of years to come we will be free of an international situation fraught with danger and unpleasant overtones."

The bill under study by the committee would not, in itself, provide a bigger army. However it would provide a permanent framework in which the army could expand, when congress provides the money, to a maximum of 837,000 men.

Under the draft act, the army has only temporary authorization to keep its strength at 837,000 men.

The bill also would authorize the air force to build toward a 70-group air force, this goes require appropriations from congress.

Royall said there is "more realistic" cause for satisfaction for the two services is highly desirable.

ONE OF GREATEST

New Wonder Drug May Answer Common Cold

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The new miracle drug, Aureomycin, was hailed today as one of 1948's greatest medical discoveries.

Aureomycin is a golden-colored, well-tolerated drug that takes up where some other antibiotics leave off. Many doctors view it as a clue to the possible solution of such virus diseases as the common cold, mumps, infantile paralysis, influenza and tuberculosis.

Doctors predicted the discovery of aureomycin will shape up as one of the most significant medical advances of 1948 when the year is surveyed by researchers in future years."

Aureomycin has proved effective against all three of the major enemies of public health—bacteria, viruses and rickettsia.

It has cured virus pneumonia, spotted fever, typhus, Q fever, parrot fever, and various infections.

Aureomycin, either powdered or liquid in form, is derived from a thread-shaped mold of the family that produces the previously discovered antibiotic streptomycin.

on the TOWN

By J. D.

Edmonton's taxi shortage is in the news again. This time a lot of people are growling about city council's decision to keep the ban clamped tight on new taxi licenses until after April 1.

Now I don't pretend to know all the ramifications of this taxicab tempest but I had a "harrowing" experience just day before yesterday. As a result I've decided to toss in my 10 cents worth, as the saying goes.

* * *

It all happened because my boss started coming down to the office disgustingly early in recent weeks. Now that in itself is bad but to make matters worse he has more than hinted that the hired help should be on hand to greet him every morning. (Psychiatrists term this a form of sadism affecting only persons in positions of authority.)

* * *

I live over on the South Side, about 15 minutes by trolley bus from the office.

On the morning in question the Missus failed to hear the alarm clock go off. Of course I gave her the bawling out she so richly deserved but the damage was done.

I was going to be late for work. I thought of the boss and of how long my unemployment insurance would carry me. I went without breakfast and dashed for the bus line, forgetting my ear muffs and scarf in the rush.

* * *

In front of South Edmonton's only taxi office stood a cab. The post office clock registered eight, starting time at the office.

A brilliant idea flashed through my mind. I'd go without lunches for a day or two and save my job by investing 10 cents in a taxi ride to the office.

* * *

A young lady in the taxi office said the driver had to pick up another passenger on the way over town but "it won't take a jiffy."

The driver got in and we started off. After driving me 11 blocks in the opposite direction to the office the cab stopped in front of a house. The driver honked the horn. He honked it off and on for 10 minutes. I had my eyes glued on my watch and was again thinking about unemployment insurance.

After what to me seemed about half the morning, a young woman emerged from the house and climbed into the back seat of the taxi.

Then the driver backtracked over the route we had come and observed:

"We'll go by way of the 105 street bridge. This lady is going to the Terrace Building."

* * *

At the Terrace Building I was actually twice as far from the office as when I started out. I started wondering if I could lay technical claim to two weeks holidays with pay when the axe fell at the office.

The cab driver must have noticed I didn't look happy.

"We have to double up on these trips because we're short of cabs," he said.

We finally got to the office, one half hour after I got into the cab. I lost 15 minutes through taking the taxi.

But every cloud has its silver lining. The boss was 15 minutes late and apparently hadn't counted noses by the time I slid into my chair.

At the same time it was a narrow squeeze.

I think we should have a few more taxicabs, on the South Side at least.

Spot on Glenora Show 'Honor' Says U.S. Pair

It is considered an honor throughout American amateur figure skating circles to be given a spot in the annual Glenora Ice Show, said Walter "Red" Bainbridge and Lois Waring yesterday.

The 18-year-old dance pair, both dance gold medalists, now hold the National and North American dance championships.

They plan to return to Washington immediately after their Edmonton performance to prepare for the defence of their titles this spring.

WENT TO OLYMPICS

Lois and "Red," who first skated together three years ago, are internationally known for their timing, balance and agility on blades.

The pair were members of the U.S. Olympic team last winter, and followed the contest by performances in Europe and England. While abroad they acted as U.S. delegates to an international skating conference, organized for the purpose of standardizing world dance steps.

"Red" plans to begin studies for his PhD in business administration this fall, specializing in personal relations.

Neither indicated any possibility that they would turn professional in the near future.

The two stars will be seen in a dance routine and a "straight" pair in the Glenora Ice Show, opening at the Arena tonight.

Seven Missing Persons Sought

Acting on behalf of relatives living in Europe, the Edmonton Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society has been asked to contact seven missing persons believed to be residing in this area.

The missing persons are: Gus Weyerowitz, Anna Liebhauser, Mychajlo and Mykola Budzynskyj, Swin William Gerson, Mykola Szpyrka, Nick Lutchyk and Harry Wusyk (Krewusyk).

Parade Friday

Members of the 36th Casualty Clearing Station, RCAMC, (RF), will parade at the Prince of Wales Armory Friday night at eight o'clock. Battle dress, berets, puttees or anklets and greatcoats will be worn.

FREE LOADER HAS NEW ANGLE

Undeterred by the many "free-mealers" who have been arrested and convicted after trying to eat without paying, an unidentified man pulled the same trick Wednesday morning.

But being fleet of foot, he made good his escape.

E. Seward, cashier of the Commodore Grill, 100 street, told police that the man entered the restaurant with his head lowered, ate his meal, all the time seeeming to feign intoxication.

When the man finished his meal, he ran past the cash register and down the street. Seward gave chase but was unable to catch him.

IOOF Honors Its Founder

Birth of an English coach-maker who founded an internationally-known brotherhood will be observed in Edmonton Monday.

Four local lodges of the IOOF will hold a joint public ceremony at 8:15 Monday at the IOOF temple in honor of the birthday of Thomas Wildey, founder of the Oddfellows.

Wildey was born in London in 1782 and after learning the trade of coach-spring making he came to Baltimore, Md.

The U.S. had just emerged from war with Great Britain, and prejudice and dislike against Englishmen was apparent in the States. Wildey united the first Britishers of his acquaintance in the U. S. in a fellowship organization which later became the IOOF.

Local Oddfellows will be addressed by A. D. Campbell, past grand master, and Gordon McArthur, grand master, at their meeting Monday.

Dancing and cards will follow the addresses.

Changes In Rail Settlement On Claims Sought

Edmonton's Chamber of Commerce will request railway companies to indicate authority under which they limit settlement on "concealed damage claims" to 50 per cent of the net loss.

"Concealed damage" is defined as goods damaged in transit packed in carrots and the damage cannot be discovered until the carton is unpacked.

If information from the companies is not considered satisfactory the question will be taken up with the Board of Transport Commissioners.

Policy of limiting damage claims of this character was set by the Railway Association of Canada and has resulted in vigorous protest from shippers.

Indians Seek Recognition Of Tribal Marriage Rites

A LITTLE FELLA with more than his quota of legs was hatched Friday at the Dominion Hatcheries, South Edmonton. Hopping around on his normal limbs, he could only drag the extra two. But he didn't seem to mind and pecked vigorously at inquisitive newsmen. As Churchill would say—some chick!

Resolution Is Passed At Convention Here

Alberta Indians are to press for legal protection of all marriages solemnized according to tribal custom and ritual.

This was decided at a meeting of the Indian Association of Alberta held Wednesday in Edmonton.

Many delegates had travelled over 400 miles to attend the convention. They represented 12,000 Indians.

Speaking at times in tribal dialect, they claimed the right of freedom of religion, and contended that marriages, solemnized according to their religion are as successful as "any other."

So that children of such marriages should be legitimate, they thought it imperative that the Federal Government legalize the Indian marriage.

They therefore approved a recommendation of the Joint Committee of the Senate and House of Commons to place the question of the validity of Indian marriages on the agenda of the next meeting of the Dominion-provincial conference.

EDUCATION COMPLAINT

Education is another matter they want discussed at the next conference. With only 17 residential and five day schools throughout the entire province, 1,200 Indian children are lacking any means of education.

"If we did not speak a little English at home, the children would not know a word of it," declared one Blood Indian. Others said that their youngsters had been refused entry to white schools.

"We want our children educated, and we would like it to be in mixed schools," several speakers declared.

Other points recommended by the Joint Committee for discussion at the conference, and approved by the meeting here yesterday were those of health and social services, fur conservation and development, and the revision of fish and game laws.

Burns Dinner, Concert Held

Robbie Burns' lovers spared not the tartan, Scottish burr or sprig of purple heather in celebrating the 190th birthday of Scotland's poet, at First Presbyterian hall here Wednesday.

Sponsored by the Strathcona Presbyterian church, a dinner and concert were presented for all local followers of romanticism's "plowman poet."

The haggis was piped in in fine traditional manner by Jessie Dugald and Harry Gerrard. Major N. McLenaan delivered the Address to the Haggis.

A new theme was introduced in the toast to the "Immortal Memory" when Rev. John Kelman of Westmount Presbyterian Church reiterated the ameliorating effects of this "simple voice of humanity". simple but forceful—upon the people, the church and the literary thought of his day.

Scotland's music predominated in the entertainment with songs by Hennece Melbeh, Mrs. Broadhead, Mary Shaw, Florian Fyfe, Hamish Gillespie and Tom Fyfe; violin solos by Mr. J. Fowler and Archie Hichan, president of the Edmonton Burns club and costumed Scottish dances by Evelyn Gerrard, Betty and Anna May Brown and Margaret Mansell.

Mr. Dennis Clayton was accompanist. The program was ably MC'd by Rev. J. Herbison.

Farm Prices Shouldn't Go Too High Is Claim

Warning against continued demand for unreasonably high agricultural prices was made by O. S. Longman in an address yesterday.

Mr. Longman, Alberta deputy minister of agriculture, was speaker at the short course of the Edmonton branch of Appraisal Institute of Canada held at the University of Alberta.

He warned that many of the purchasers of Canadian agricultural products will seek their supplies elsewhere if the Canadian price is too high.

MARKETS PROBLEM

The time is fast approaching, he said, when it is no longer a question of supply, but one of markets and it is time this country gave some thought to serving them.

Canada, Mr. Longman said, should endeavor to maintain the bacon and cheese markets in Britain.

High prices for coarse grains have made it uneconomical to process them through livestock and, as a result, livestock populations are reduced, with subsequent reflections on prices in many fields.

He urged western farmers to give closer attention to the market for coarse grains existing in eastern Canada. The eastern farmer, he said, has come to consider the supply of western grains as unreliable and are either turning to growing their own or importing from the U.S.

Dr. J. D. Newton, professor of soils at the U of A, discussed the appraising of soil fertility and C. I. King also spoke on municipal assessments in relation to appraisal value. Mr. King is engaged with the department of municipal affairs.

The three-day short course of the Appraisal Institute concluded Wednesday night with a banquet in the Macdonald hotel, at which A. S. R. Tweedie was the guest speaker.

Butter Stocks Down 20 Pct.

Stocks of butter in store in Edmonton are about 20 per cent down from the amount in store at the end of 1947, but Edmonton housewives don't need to worry.

D. H. McCallum, Alberta dairy commissioner said Edmonton stocks could be replenished from nearby country creameries. Calgary is not in the same happy position, he said.

Retail stores in Calgary are already rationing butter on a voluntary basis, he revealed.

Decrease in stored butter both here and in all Canada was due to a number of factors, Mr. McCallum thought.

Imposing of a ceiling price on butter was resented by dairymen since butter was the only farm product thus restricted.

Extra work involved in caring for a dairy herd, when other farm products were paying good returns had no appeal for most farmers, he added.

The burden of income tax was another reason the mixed farmer did not pay too much attention to his dairy herds.

Builders' Post

Canadian Construction Association elected J. C. Haddow of Edmonton vice-president representing Alberta at its annual meeting in Toronto.

Allan C. Ross of Ottawa was re-elected president of the Association.

The record for staying under water is six minutes, 29 4/5 seconds, made by M. Pouliquen, of Paris, in 1912.

Get Along Little Ranger— City Life Is Tougher Still

A man who wants to quit riding the trail and a tough life in the bush for some of the pleasures of civilization is Alberta forest ranger Pete C. Comeau.

For 15 years, longer than any other provincial ranger, he has patrolled the forests from Grande Prairie to the British Columbia border, watching for fire, protecting game and guarding the registered trap lines.

And now the short, stocky ranger wants to leave it all.

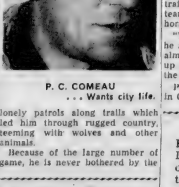
BUSH HOLDS HIM

"Only I can't," he sighed in Edmonton today, where he is attending a conference of Alberta rangers. "It's in my blood. I would like some comforts, but I can't seem to stay out of the bush for long." Proud of the fact that he is a "Bluenose" by birth, he admits, however, that he never wants to go back to Nova Scotia. "The west is for me," he declared.

He came to Alberta in 1930, after 10 years lumber-jacking in British Columbia. Four years later he became a ranger.

With two pack horses and his own saddle mount, he began the lonely patrols along trails which led him through rugged country, teeming with wolves and other animals.

Because of the large number of game, he is never bothered by the former, but bears invariably dog his path, stealing his packs.



P. C. COMEAU
. . . Wants city life.

HAS LONG RIDES

When without food he fishes in a creek, or shoots game to cook over a camp fire. He makes his own bannock, or bread, and frequently rides night and day to get help for fire-fighting. Seven days in the saddle to reach the nearest neighbor, is known as "taking action."

During the months when the fire hazards are slight, Pete cuts fresh trails. In winter he uses a dog team, and in the summer his pack horses.

"Yeh, it's a tough life all right," he added. "I guess you have to be almost a man and a half to stand up to it. And you have to know the bush."

Pete has a wife and six children in Grande Prairie.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Sports Togs Sell At Bargain Billing

By Bea Thrifty

Ah! A veritable gold-mine of bargains today.

The weatherman smiled for a while yesterday and gave me a chance to leap about the shops with considerable abandon.

Usually my greatest athletic venture is a strenuous game of gin rummy . . . but now that I've seen these tremendous bargains in ski clothes . . . I'm ready for a bit of muscle-flexing on the hillside.

Sizes
12-20
30-42

Just listen to this:

There are excellent quality gabardine ski slacks, tailored to perfection, selling at $15. Now this seems a lot of dollars but when the regular price is $22.50 . . . it is a real buy.

They come in slate grey, navy blue, brown, beige and black and really do wonders for the figure. Those of your gals who are enthusiastic skiers should take advantage of this.

Others, of wool gabardine, are splendid buys at $9. They sell regularly at $14.50.

There are some beauties of hand-woven balaclava helmets in plain neutral shades . . . apple green, dusky pink, honey beige . . . and trimmed with wide Fair Isle design.

Not as bulky as "balaclavas," these top of the list for active sports.

Here's where the bargain comes into the picture. Usual price is $4.25 and now they're going for a song at a mere $1.95.

All these sports togs are of excellent quality and items of bargains . . . believe me . . .

From the healthy Canadian out-door girl—I do a quick change to the fire-side sweet'n gentle woman who is interested in the exquisite baubles appearing these days.

Lovelies in delicate shades, accented with sprigs of tiny flowers set as ash trays for many collars . . . eight dollars to be exact.

A happy-looking little jam-pot (was a chair) perched on the lid is a touch of dainty perfection, and should be for the price of $6.50.

Mind you, it is a charmer . . . for those pink cherry blossoms and leaves keeping the cherry ad company.

Wasn't there some pretties these days?

From wealth to health and a word about the vast array of vegetable juices available for the asking . . . and the paying.

Seems you can buy vegetable juices, carrot, celery, parsley, beet, cabbage . . . in sterilized cartons for a reasonable fee. Half pint of the stuff can be carried home for prices varying from 12c to 20c for the various plain or mixed juices.

If you don't want them for sipping as is . . . should be good for soups 'n stews.

Actress Rita Hayworth picks out just the right shade of lipstick for her skin tone, which will also match her powder and rouge.

WHY GROW OLD

Many Cosmetic Aids To Feminine Beauty

By Josephine Lowman

Today there are so many aids to attractiveness that it would not be surprising if we were all raving beauties! In the cosmetic line alone, the list is long. Many women do not know about some of the available products.

Therefore, I am going to give a quick resume of these and will call your attention to some of the valuable beauty improvement suggestions which are current.

In the first place, we can now buy powder which matches our natural skin tone perfectly. This goes for lipstick and rouge, too. Dark, sallow skins are confused by the fact that they must take into consideration the color of the costume they are wearing as well as their natural skin tone when buying lip or face rouge. White powder and highlights look terrible when worn with a plum colored suit; this should cause no trouble in selecting your shade to match a dress in a choice of colors. You can always find one which is becoming to you and yet does not fight with the shade of your costume. If you cannot do so, it simply means that you are wearing colors in your suits and dresses which are not flattering to you.

Today straight hair is no longer a problem with lovely permanents possible. Hair styling can create changes which are almost as miraculous as those wrought by plastic surgery. You can mistimate a long or short face and make a round face look fuller or a round face look slimmer. Many tricks can also add to the illusion you wish to create.

Today we have make-up bases planned especially for the extremely dry or oily skin. There is a new and interesting product on the market which will be a great help to many girls and women. This cosmetic banishes the shine from nose or chin or face for hours at a time. This problem has annoyed many women. An oily nose after an hour or soin beauty is definitely not a social asset if you apply more powder over this oily surface the result is often worse than a head-light because of a caked and streaked appearance. You can use this product as a base if your skin is oily all over. If not, you can apply it to the oily spots.

We have electrolysis and depilatories for superfluous hair, also deodorants and anti-perspirants which add to daintiness. We have circulation creams and jellies to whip up lagging circulation. We can have beautiful jobs done in eyebrow and eyelash and hair dying. There are especially helpful products for blackheads and hormone creams for wrinkles.

None of these take the place of inherited perfection but they are all great aids for the average woman. Enjoy them and give your natural assets a boost with them.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Handicapped Boy Told to Stop Moping

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a boy of 17 who has only one leg since a year ago when I was injured in a car accident. I sit at home all day and when I do go out everybody seems to be staring at me.

I haven't an ugly face, but I can't seem to make any friends—either boys or girls. When I go near a girl she seems frightened of me and sometimes she even runs away.

I need your advice desperately, so please tell me what to do.

GEORGE

Answer: The best piece of advice that I can give you, George, is to snap out of the morbid state of mind into which you have gotten and face life with courage, instead of cowardice.

No one will minimize the misfortune it is to lose a leg, but you lose something far more important to you than a limb when you lose your self-confidence and the determination to succeed, no matter what blows Fate may deal you.

Cry-babies get nowhere, so quit being sorry for yourself. Don't let one bit of bad luck put you on the do-nothing stool for life. Don't ask anybody for sympathy.

Just show that you can take whatever happens to you and that you are not going to throw up your hands and quit just because the building is hard. We get tired of keeping weaklings, but when we see men or women who are making a game fight against handicaps we know them God keeps those who help themselves.

You say that people stare at you on the street because you are crippled. That's not true. Too many men have lost their legs to make you a museum spectacle.

You say you have no friends among the boys and girls and that girls avoid you. Well, why wouldn't they when all you do is to sit at home and mope, which makes you very dull company?

It would be a different story if you made yourself the most interesting, the most cheerful, the most companiable boy in your set.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Baby Will Work Out Satisfactory Schedule

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

The young mother of today has an easier time getting acquainted with her new baby than the mother who had to worry about establishing it on a schedule.

Today she can treat her baby in a more natural manner. She can feed it when it is hungry. She can pick it up and love and soothe it when it is crying. She can let it sleep as long as it will, and when it will, certain that eventually it will work out a schedule that will be as satisfactory to her as it is to the baby.

If the baby is being nursed then there should be little or no trouble. If he nurses often, then this promotes a better supply of breast milk, and with better nourishment the baby is more contented and tends to sleep longer hours between nursings.

The bottle-fed baby makes for more complex problems. First of all, the formula has to be adapted to his own digestion. It may have to be changed several times before the baby is happy and contented with it.

Meanwhile, the mother does not know whether the baby is crying because it is hungry, or whether its cries arise from indigestion and pain. This is a confused and worried some situation when a mother is so unacquainted with the ways of her new treasure.

Carol Ann, three months old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Topolinski, of 11949 78 street.

Also, she hasn't an unlimited number of bottles at hand and if the baby eats far oftener than expected she is apt to run out of them before time to prepare the next formula. Some mothers have managed this by preparing enough bottles for 36 hours and then when she is down to the last two bottles she can prepare another "batch" of them.

It is certain that whether breast or bottle-fed, if the baby's food is satisfying to him then any irregularity of feeding the first few weeks will adjust itself. The rhythms of a baby's hunger and sleeping are regular and if all goes well he will soon be eating only five or six times a day or even only four or five before he is six weeks old.

The mistake an unknowing mother makes with self-demand feedings is to interpret a baby's every cry as one of hunger. She should try walking, rocking or just holding him when he cries to be sure that these will not be sufficient to soothe him, before she concludes that he IS hungry and must be fed.

Our leaflet No. 5 "The First Six Weeks" may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper. This is a new leaflet explaining self-demand feedings.

PORK CHOPS WESTERN STYLE
(6 servings)

Six pork chops, 1-inch thick, 4 tablespoons chili sauce, few drops lemon juice, 2 tablespoons grated onion, ½ teaspoon dry mustard, 2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, ¼ teaspoon curry, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika.

Marinate the chops for 1 hour in all of the ingredients combined. Remove chops and wipe dry. Brown in a hot greased skillet. Heat the marinade with ½ cup of water and pour it over the chops. Cover and simmer for 30 minutes until they are nearly tender. Uncover them and continue cooking until they are done. Or bake them covered in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 1 hour. Serve hot.

BRIDGE

Establish Diamonds First in This Hand

Park Lanphear of St. Paul, Minn., president of the Minnesota bridge unit, sent me today's lesson hand. Park wrote that the Minnesota crowd may learn a few lessons from the eastern experts who attend the St. Paul Winter Carnival championships on Feb. 11, 12, 13 and 14; but they also are counting on giving a few bridge lessons themselves.

Park suggested that I include in my lesson hands a few for the real beginner at bridge, such as today's hand. Although this hand is simple, it does provide a good lesson for the beginner.

Lesson Hand—Neither vul.

South	West	North	East
1 N.T.	Pass	4 N.T.	Pass
5 ♥	Pass	6 N.T.	Pass

Opening—♣3 27

Regardless of the method of bidding you use, you should have no trouble in arriving at six no trump. There is no problem on the first trick; it can be won in either hand. Now the beginner may cash out three spade tricks, three heart tricks and three club tricks, before starting on the diamond suit.

It is obvious that declarer must win three diamond tricks to make his contract, and he cannot get them until he knocks out the ace of diamonds. He has all of the high diamonds in the deck to do it with, so he should lead diamonds. If the opponents do not win the first one, he leads another diamond. If they do not win the second, he leads the third.

Of course, if they do not win that one, he has his three diamond tricks and he can then go ahead and cash the three spades, three hearts and the other two clubs, which give him twelve tricks for the small slam.

By far the greatest number of airpline stalling accidents occur in landing.

Local Council Aims Defined by President

Local Council of Women Hold Annual Meeting at Corona Hotel

Local Council of Women is a clearing house and information bureau, which provides machinery for joint action on behalf of the community.

It helps to form a united front in a program of democracy and to keep contact with national and international organizations.

Thus Mrs. W. E. Stewart, president, defined the aims of the Local Council of Women at the organization's annual meeting, which held its opening session Thursday morning in the Corona hotel. Reports were also heard from all the affiliated societies.

Following a luncheon in the Corona hotel dining room, Dr. Walter H. Johns lectured on the "Bill of Rights." Committee conveners then presented their reports, and election of officers was held.

Child welfare, penal reform, education, health, housing, high cost of living and racial discrimination were all studied seriously during the year, continued Mrs. Stewart.

Council studied the penal system and pressed for reforms. The pressure of public opinion has had a marked effect, and improvement has been noted, she reported.

Response to the "Save the Children" fund was a practical way of demonstrating common responsibility and of uniting to attain one goal.

In reviewing the year's work, Mrs. Stewart recalled that 1948 had marked the hundredth anniversary of the first convention to discuss women's rights, held in Seneca Falls, N.Y. Since then, women have been granted the franchise, and have equality of education, though there is still inequality in jobs and training.

Women must be active in working to improve our own democracy, and for the United Nations, declared Mrs. Stewart. They should work together in peace time to bring about the well-being of the country, as they did during the war.

Mrs. Stewart also urged Canadian women to support the Canadian Association of Consumers in its efforts to give the consumer effective representation in the present economic crisis.

Punishment Over For Women With Wagging Tongues

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 27. —(AP)— Representative Jeanette M. Dye today demanded the end of a Pennsylvania law that publishes women for talking too much.

She has proposed a bill in the state legislature which would abolish "the common-law crime of common scold."

The crime of "common scold" originated in England centuries ago and was directed against women who became a public nuisance.

Punishment was dousing in a pond while strapped to a ducking stool. Last time the punishment was inflicted in Pennsylvania was 1850.

The state court ruled then that although the crime of common scold still existed in Pennsylvania, ducking was obsolete as a penalty. It said punishment should be by fine or imprisonment.

Last year, two women were convicted of being common scolds.

Elect New President

Mrs. W. L. Naubert was elected president of the Gyrette Club at a recent annual meeting.

The dinner meeting was held at the King Edward Hotel.

Gifts were presented to the retiring officers, Mrs. D. W. Cobbledick, Mrs. H. S. Millar and Mrs. A. G. Maunton.

Following the election of officers, a musical quiz was conducted by Mrs. H. R. MacLean. Other games were played.

Officers elected for the new term include Mrs. R. L. Barnes, first vice-president; Mrs. F. J. Newson, second vice-president; Mrs. J. P. Barberie, secretary; Mrs. L. B. Graham, treasurer.

Mayor Ainlay Speaks On Civic Growth

Problems arising from the growth of Edmonton were brought to the attention of the Edmonton Business and Professional Women's Club by Mayor Harry D. Ainlay at a recent meeting.

The mayor spoke of the work of the different departments and showed that size and population are not what make a great city.

Max Dewar, city architect, gave a talk on Town Planning, he illustrated it with maps and charts.

Miss Norah Reed introduced Mayor Ainlay and Miss Laura Bramley-More thanked both speakers.

It was announced that the club will celebrate International Night with a dinner the end of February.

International Day broadcast will feature Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Eve Curie as speakers.

Mrs. Mollie Stevenson was appointed to the national magazine committee and Miss Elsie Kirby was appointed to the national speakers' committee.

Golden Daffodils For Ryan-Robinson Wedding

Spring bouquets of daffodils and tulips decorated the chapel of St. Joseph's Cathedral Wednesday evening for the wedding of Bessie Jean Robinson and Arthur Joseph Ryan. Rev. A. O'Brien performed the ceremony.

Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Robinson of Edmonton and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Ryan, of Ottawa, Ont.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride wore a full-skirted gown of white taffeta, styled with short sleeves, and a round gathered neckline. Elbow length silk gloves and a floor length veil, falling from her mother's coronet of orange blossoms, completed her bridal costume. Single strand of pearls was her only jewelry, and she carried a crescent shaped bouquet of red roses.

Miss Lois Robinson attended her sister as bridesmaid. Her gown of pink taffeta was styled similarly to that of the bride, and she wore a matching pink braided coronet. Her elbow length mitts were white, and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations surrounded by white cranations.

Joseph Kristoff attended the bridegroom as best man.

Miss Arlene Kisti was at the organ, and during the signing of the register she played "Because."

Mother of the bride assisted in receiving with the bridal couple at a reception in the drawing room of the Macdonald hotel.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Robinson chose a two-piece dress of powder blue crepe, with black accessories and corsage of pink roses and white hyacinth.

Carnations in assorted colors, and tapers in candelabra, were used to decorate the reception room. Three tiered cake centred the bride's table.

Toast to the bride was proposed by C. M. McLeod.

Presiding at the coffee urns were Mrs. C. M. McLeod and Mrs. J. Colburn.

Leaving for a honeymoon to be spent in Banff and Calgary, the bride donned a slate-blue gabardine dressmaker suit, styled with a pencil slim skirt. Her accessories were cranberry-red, and a corsage of pale pink roses was pinned to her muskrat topcoat.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Ryan will make their home in Edmonton.

Canada Dream World For Displaced Persons

By Georgina Yule

North America seems a dream world to Displaced Persons.

This is the opinion of Mrs. Edith Amas Esson, who went overseas for the dominion department of labor in August, 1947.

Miss Esson returned to Canada this fall, after spending 14 months assisting in the selection of domestic servants and nurses from DP camps.

Eagerness to settle in Canada was apparent in the camps, said Mrs. Esson. The impression created by the lavishness of the American troops is largely responsible for this, she added.

Although frantic to get out of Europe for fear of another war, many DP's are afraid to come without their dependants. They have been betrayed by so many governments that they trust no one, continued Mrs. Esson.

She cited the case of a Ukrainian couple who were taken away from their home in Poland by the Russians, and sent to Siberia for 10 years. Despite the fact that the mother was pregnant, she and her husband were separated and sent to different camps.

In 1939 they finally got back to Poland and were just getting established, when along came the Nazis and they were taken away as slave labor.

Canadian government has done a wonderful job of selecting the right type of person to come to Canada from Displaced Persons camps in Germany, said Mrs. Esson.

Canada is second only to Britain in the number of DP's admitted since the end of the war.

Formerly director of nursing in the Saskatoon General Hospital, and later supervisor of the women's division of the National Employment Service in that city, Mrs. Esson is touring the prairie provinces to discuss her work with local advisory committees to DP's.

One of the first Canadian women to go overseas to select DP's, Mrs. Esson was a member of the Canadian Government Mission, Dept. of Labor, Security, Dept. of National Health, and the Immigration Dept. were all represented.

Number of DP's to come from each camp was set by the IRO, to fill the quotas sent in by different countries.

Old buildings, permanent army barracks, and even an ancient bishop's palace have been commandeered for DP camps, which are supervised by officers of the IRO or the Central Control Commission of Germany.

Mrs. Esson commended the work of UNRRA, YWCA, YMCA and other organizations which have set up schools in the camps. Young girls are continuing their interrupted schooling, and adults can take English and craft classes.

Special Dessert To Finish Low Cost Main Dish Meals

By Jane Scott

When the main dish of the meal is economy-wise, Mom has to specialize on an extra-special dessert . . . or there are complaints from the family.

Here are a few chosen favorites for just that special purpose. They're hearty, tasty and satisfying.

GREAT-GRANDMOTHER'S BLUEBERRY DESSERT

1 pkg. [illegible] can [illegible] tablespoon lemon juice, 1 small [loaf] of white bread, butter.

If you use fresh or frozen blueberries from the grocery, cook them up with enough sugar to sweeten them very well and stir in lemon juice. Obviously it's not necessary to cook or sweeten the canned berries but you certainly need the tartness of lemon juice.

Slice bread [illegible], [cut] off crusts and butter. Starting with buttered bread, alternate layers of bread and blueberries in a loaf pan. Chill [illegible] with a heavy weight on top so bread absorbs all juices and forms a mold. To serve, unmold on platter, slice and serve with cold custard sauce.

• • •

MAPLE SYRUP PIE

[illegible] 2 tablespoons [illegible] [illegible] the milk. Heat the rest of the milk with maple syrup to boiling point. Add cornstarch mixture and cook 5 minutes in double boiler, stirring constantly. Pour some of the mixture over the beaten egg yolks, return to the double boiler and cook 5 minutes longer, stirring continually. Pour into a baked pie shell and top with meringue made from the egg whites.

• • •

PECAN PUDDING

Beat until thick 3 eggs. Mix in 1 cup dark corn syrup, ½ cup sugar, and 2 tablespoons melted butter. Sift together ½ cup cake flour and ⅛ teaspoon cream of tartar. Fold into egg mixture with [½] cup pecan meats and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Pour into greased baking dish. Sprinkle over top another ½ cup pecan meats.

Bake at 375 F. for 35 to 40 minutes [until] top springs back when touched with fingertip. This has cake texture on top and pudding [illegible]

• • •

PRUNE CHIFFON PIE

(Yield: 1 nine-inch pie)

One-half cup water, 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, ½ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon flour, ¾ cup cooked prune liquid, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, ¾ cup chopped, cooked prunes, 2/3 cup icy cold evaporated milk.

Soften gelatin in water. Mix together sugar, salt and flour in saucepan; add prune liquid. Cook, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Remove from heat; add gelatin, stir until dissolved. Add lemon juice. Chill until slightly thicker than unbeaten egg white. Beat with rotary egg beater until fluffy. Stir in chopped prunes. Whip evaporated milk. Fold gelatin into whipped milk. Turn into 9-inch baked pie shell. If desired garnish with whipped cream and pieces of prune.

FLORIDA CHIFFON PIE

(Yield: 8 servings)

One and one-half cups orange juice, 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, 2/3 cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 4 eggs, separated, one [9-inch] baked pastry shell.

Soften gelatin in ½ cup of the orange juice. Put remaining 1 cup juice, 1/3 cup of the sugar and salt in top of double boiler and heat. Beat egg yolks until blended; stir in hot juice gradually. Return to double boiler and cook over hot water until slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; add softened gelatin and stir until dissolved. Chill until mixture is slightly thicker than the consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Beat egg whites [until] stiff; beat in remaining 1/3 cup sugar. Fold in gelatin [mixture]. Turn into pastry shell. [If] desired, garnish with orange [sections] and whipped cream.

• • •

BLUEBERRY CRUMB PUDDING

(4 servings)

One package frozen blueberries, 1 cup zwieback crumbs, ¼ cup sugar; ⅛ teaspoon cinnamon, [2] tablespoons melted butter or fortified margarine.

Partially defrost the blueberries. Combine well the zwieback crumbs, sugar and cinnamon. Add the melted butter or margarine to the dry ingredients and mix well. Place 2/3 cup blueberries in small greased casserole and cover with 1/3 of the crumb mixture. Add remaining blueberries and crumb mixture alternately, making 3 layers of blueberries and topping with crumbs. Press down firmly with spoon. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Cool for about 5 minutes and unmold on serving plate. Top with frozen whip topping.

Easy Recipes Score Again

Beautiful exotic food makes wonderful reading, but when it comes to going into the kitchen and whipping up something for "supper" ah then an easy recipe that calls for what is on the shelf is the true beauty.

Here is just such a one.

CHEESED RICE

[illegible] cups of white sauce; one cup grated cheese.

To cook rice: Put one cup rice, one teaspoon salt and two cups of cold water in a two-quart saucepan and cover with a tight fitting lid. Set over [illegible]

[illegible] deliciously tender.

Remove the lid, permit the rice to steam dry to the desired consistency and the grains will be separate and fluffy. Never stir rice but lift rice gently with a fork when testing its consistency.

To make white sauce: While the rice is cooking melt four tablespoons of butter or margarine in the top of a double boiler or in a heavy saucepan. Blend in four tablespoons flour until a smooth paste. Gradually add two cups of milk and cook and stir until the sauce is smooth and has thickened. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

To assemble: Put a layer of the cooked rice in a greased baking dish, using about half of it. Cover with half the white sauce and sprinkle on half the grated cheese. Then add another layer of rice, another of white sauce and end up on grated cheese.

Place in a 375 degree oven and [illegible]

Serve with stewed tomatoes or a tomato sauce or just as it is as a main dish or a vegetable.

• • •

PEACH REFRIGERATOR PIE

(8 servings)

One package frozen peaches, 1¾ cups evaporated milk and peach juice mixed, 1 package lemon-flavored gelatin, 1 egg well-beaten with 1/16 teaspoon salt, vanilla wafers.

Defrost and drain the peaches, reserving juice. Add the evaporated milk to peach juice to make 1¾ cups. Heat liquid to boiling and add the lemon-flavored gelatin. Stir until gelatin is dissolved. Fold in the egg and chill until [illegible] bottom and sides of 8-inch pie pan with vanilla wafers. Whip chilled mixture with rotary beater until fluffy, then fold in drained peaches cut in small pieces. Pour peach mixture over vanilla wafers. Chill until firm.

• • •

CHOCOLATE DREAM

1/3 to ½ cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces, 1 tablespoon water, 3 eggs, separated, light cream.

Add chocolate to water, and melt over hot water. Stir until smooth. Remove from heat, and add egg yolks one at a time, beating well after each addition. Beat egg whites until stiff. Fold gently into chocolate-egg mixture. Spoon delicately into sherbet glasses, and chill. Serve with cream. Makes 4 servings.

High Value—Low Cost Menus For Meat Budget

Economy-Minded Main Dishes Score With Bargain-Wise Cooks

By Jane Scott

High in flavor, low in cost—that's the keynote of these economy-minded main dishes.

To make a pound and a half of ground beef serve eight hungry persons adequately, combine it with eight slices of processed cheese. Call the result picnic burgers, and serve with potato salad. There's a balanced meal for your family that won't ruin the budget.

Beef liver is one of the best sources of top quality nutrition. It supplies protein and iron at low cost. Serve it frequently, appetizingly dressed up.

Or you could combine potatoes and ground beef together with onions, and bake in individual custard cups.

For lots more food and dollar saving dinner suggestions, glance at the recipes I've trotted out for you!

PICNIC BURGERS

(Serves 8)

One and one-half pounds of ground beef, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ⅛ teaspoon sage, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 4 tablespoons catsup, 8 slices processed cheese, ⅛ cup pickle relish.

Mix together ground beef, salt, pepper, sage, minced onion and catsup. Shape into 16 small hamburger patties. Place slices of cheese on eight of these hamburger patties and spread with pickle relish. Top with remaining patties. Arrange "double hamburgers" on heat-resistant glass well-and-tree platter. Place in pre-heated broiling oven about three inches from source of heat. Broil for about eight minutes on each side, turning once. Serve on platter.

Here's another way to extend ground meat—to make ¾ pound feed four.

POTATO-HAMBURGER PIE

(Serves 4)

Twelve small onions, 8 small carrots, ¾ pound ground beef seasonings, 3 tablespoons fat, 3 tablespoons flour, 2 cups seasoned mashed potatoes.

Cook onions and carrots in boiling salted water. Season beef and [illegible] gravy, onions and carrots. Cover with the mashed potatoes. Brush with milk; bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until brown (about 2[0] minutes).

MEAT TIMBALES WITH CREAMED POTATOES

(Serves 6)

One pound ground beef, 1 teaspoon minced onion, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 4 cups diced raw potatoes, 1 tablespoon butter or fortified margarine, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup milk, ¼ cup diced pimiento, 6 sprigs of parsley.

Mix together ground beef, minced onion, 1 teaspoon salt and pepper. Line six heat-resistant glass custard cups, 6½-ounce size with meat. Combine potatoes, butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon salt and milk in a saucepan. Cook over low heat for about 25 minutes or until potatoes are almost done. Add diced pimiento to potatoes. Fill meat-lined glass custard cups with potatoes. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) [illegible] minutes. Garnish with parsley.

DINNER IN A DISH

(8 servings)

One-quarter cup chopped onion, 1 tablespoon shortening, 1 cup ground beef, 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¾ teaspoon chili powder, 2 cups cooked potatoes cubed, 2 cups string beans, cooked, 2 cups corn, cooked, 4 medium-size tomatoes, 1 teaspoon sugar, 2 tablespoons grated cheese, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley.

Cook chopped onion in shortening until almost tender. Add meat and brown. Add one teaspoon of salt, the pepper and chili powder, stir until well blended. Place a greased two-quart heat-resistant glass casserole. Place potatoes over meat; sprinkle with some of salt. Arrange string beans in layer on top of potatoes, then the corn on top of beans, sprinkle each layer with salt. Slice tomatoes and place over corn. Sprinkle with remaining salt and the teaspoon of sugar. Top with grated cheese and chopped parsley. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 25 minutes.

PIGS AND PEAS

(Serves 6)

Two No. 2 cans peas, 2 pounds little farm sausages, ½ pound Canadian cheese, diced onion or chives.

Drain liquid from peas and boil down to about one-third. Then return peas to liquid. Brown sausages in an iron skillet, cooking them slowly so they can get good and brown without burning. Take casserole, spread a layer of the peas and liquid over the bottom, then a layer of the crispy brown sausages, and sprinkle with the diced cheese. Alternate layers until the dish is filled, dot with extra cheese on top, and sprinkle with paprika, then put baking dish in oven for 20 to 30 minutes slow baking. Onion or chives flavoring is optional.

SAUSAGE BEEF LOAF

(Yield: 8 servings—5½ x 9½-inch pan)

One egg, 1½ teaspoons salt, dash pepper, ¼ cup chopped onion, ¼ teaspoon prepared mustard, 1/3 cup milk, 2 cups ready-to-eat wheat cereal, 1¼ pounds ground beef, ¾ pound bulk pork sausages.

Beat egg slightly, combine with remaining ingredients. Press lightly into loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 45 minutes.

MEAT SAVORIES

Makes 10 patties 2½ inches in diameter)

Three tablespoons fat, 2/3 tablespoon minced onion, ¾ pound chuck beef, veal or lamb breast or shoulder, ground, 1¼ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon celery salt, ½ cup rolled oats, 1/3 cup milk, 3 tablespoons chili sauce, 1 teaspoon bottled horse-radish.

Melt 2 tablespoons fat, add onion, and simmer 3 minutes. Mix all remaining ingredients except 1 tablespoon fat and flour. Add minced onion and fat remaining in pan. Blend smooth. Form into 10 thin patties, then dust with a little flour. Brown slowly on all sides in remaining 1 tablespoon hot fat in skillet.

MUSHROOM MEAT SAUCE WITH NOODLES

(4 servings)

Two tablespoons fat, 1 clove garlic, minced, ½ cup finely diced onion, ½ pound chopped beef, ½ teaspoon kitchen bouquet or Worcestershire sauce, one 3-ounce can sliced broiled mushrooms, 1 cup tomato puree, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon sugar, 1/16 teaspoon powdered orengano, 8 ounces wide noodles.

Melt fat over moderate heat. Add garlic and cook 1 minute. Add onion and continue cooking about 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Add meat and continue cooking until crumby. Stir in kitchen bouquet or Worcestershire sauce. Add contents of can of mushrooms and tomato puree. Add salt, sugar, peper and oregano. Bring to boil and cook sauce, covered, over low heat for about 15 minutes. Cook noodles until barely tender in boiling salted water. Drain well. Add sauce and serve immediately with grated Parmesan cheese, hard rolls and a salad. (Note: This makes an excellent spaghetti sauce of course.)

CORN-SAUSAGE PIE

1 pound sausages, 3 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper, 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion, 4 tablespoons sausage dripping, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, 2 eggs, beaten, ¾ cup milk, 2½ cups (No. 2 can) cream-style corn, 1 cup sifted pastry flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 3 tablespoons shortening, ¼ to 1/3 cup milk.

METHOD: Brown sausages, drain off drippings, reserving 4 tablespoons in pan. Saute the green pepper and onion in the reserved dripipngs. Blend in the flour, salt and pepper. Remove from heat. Combine beaten eggs and milk and gradually add to mixture in pan. Add corn and return to heat and stir constantly until mixture is heated through. Pour into a greased casserole. Arrange sausages on hot mixture, reserving 6 sausages for topping.

Sift together the flour, salt and baking powder. Cut in shortening with pastry blender or two knives. Stir in milk. Round up on lightly floured bakeboard. Knead very lightly—just to smooth out. Roll or pat out to fit top of casserole. Make slits in dough for 6 sausages to poke through. Place on top of casserole. Insert reserved sausages in slits and bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) for 20 minutes. Serve hot.

Note: If desired, green pepper may be omitted.

BUDGET DISH for the main course is a combination treat of spiced beans with frankfurters. It makes a welcome supper on a cold night. Combine with favorite cream pie for a perfect menu.

Alaska Power Site Hailed As Best in North America

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(CP)—A power site described as "potentially the greatest in North America" has been discovered on the Yukon River in the heart of Alaska.

It would require a dam only 250 feet high, says William E. Warne, assistant secretary of the interior. Hoover dam, across the Colorado river, is 726 feet high.

The Alaskan project could produce more than 12,000,000,000 kilowatt-hours of power each year, it is estimated. The largest producer in the United States, Grand Coulee (Wash.) dam, will have a top capacity of only 8,000,000,000 when all units have been installed some years hence.

SECOND LARGEST

Warne, writing in "The Reclamation Era," a publication of the bureau of reclamation, says another site, involving diversion of headwaters of the Yukon, if developed would be the second largest power project in Alaska.

Since that site is at Miles Canyon, in the Yukon Territory, the dam could be built only through an international agreement, Warne says.

Water, backed up through a series of interconnected Canadian lakes now covering 500 square miles, would be diverted through a 15-mile tunnel to the Pacific slope, he adds. The annual power output would be 3,000,000,000 Kilowatt-hours.

Warne's article adds:

ALMOST CENTRE

"The site which may prove to have the greatest potentiality in North America" is at a sudden narrowing of the Yukon known as the Rampart, almost in the geographic centre of Alaska.

The proposed dam would flood the so-called Yukon Flat with a reservoir 40 to 100 miles wide and 200 miles long.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD.—(AP)—Hold onto your hats—here comes our first "10 best" list of the year.

The conductor is Betty Hutton and she is picking the 10 men with the most sex appeal.

"All great men in any field have sex appeal," she explained "they don't have to be actors."

Here are Betty's selections and comments:

Winston Churchill, "I never met him, but he has great appeal in his voice. It's not exactly sexy, but he has a command that makes woman stop and listen."

FREE AND EASY

Bing Crosby, "He's not an actor. He does everything the way he plays golf—free and easy."

Gen. George Marshall, "His integrity appeals to me."

Jack Benny, "He's brilliant and a big-hearted guy."

Montgomery Clift and John Lund. "They kill me."

Producer Buddy DeSylva. "He knows more about show business than any man I know."

Gen. Ike Eisenhower. "He's a solid guy."

For her other two choices, Betty picked her doctor and her husband.

NOSING FOR NEWS

Movie acting is getting to be easy work for some people.

James Mason did two days' work in "Madame Bovary," Ethel Barrymore did a week in "The Great Sinner." Now Franchot Tone has a four-day part in "Twilight"....

Jack Benny: "He's brilliant and a big-hearted guy."

Montgomery Clift and John Lund. "They kill me."

Producer Buddy DeSylva. "He knows more about show business than any man I know."

Eden Advises World To Face Red Threat

WINNIPEG, Jan. 27.—(CP)—In the modern, contracting world, the nations must accept and abide by a rule of international law, Anthony Eden, deputy leader of the British Conservative party, said last night.

"That must continue to be the objective and no other arrangement, however admirable, can be a complete substitute for it. At the same time, we have to face the fact that Soviet Russia, in present conditions, does not seem prepared to co-operate on an equal basis and with an equal temper in an international organization."

ONLY ONE COURSE

In such circumstances, there seemed only one course open—the free nations on either side of the Atlantic must work and plan together to the fullest extent in their power, in the political, economic and military sphere.

"We must understand that Communism is a challenge to our way of life. Our ability to meet this challenge will depend upon the extent to which we can show that the free world can create a way of life greatly surpassing theirs," said Mr. Eden in an address prepared for delivery to a meeting sponsored by Winnipeg Chamber of Commerce.

The free nations had taken certain steps towards the creation of greater unity between themselves. Equally welcome were the efforts now being made to complete an Atlantic pact.

PRAISES CANADA

"Canada's leadership and guidance in this matter has been invaluable."

In a reference to the currency difficulties facing both Canada and Britain, Mr. Eden said 19th-century Britain supplied the world with large quantities of goods, for a part of which "we took payment by investing the proceeds in countries overseas. It may be that if North America were prepared, in like manner, to make investments in the sterling area, this would help to restore the balance of payments."

Low-Cost Housing Declared Possible

Construction Association Suggests Co-operation

By Forbes Rhude
Canadian Press Business Editor

TORONTO, Jan. 27.—(CP)—The Canadian construction association said in effect Wednesday, "you can't have your cake and eat it too," but tried to suggest ways in which to get more cake.

The way they put it was: "It is impossible to enjoy post-war incomes and expect to pay pre-war prices."

RESTRAINT URGED

They urged all employers and employes on construction and allied industries to increase output and exercise all possible restraint to avoid further cost increas . .

They suggested that Dominion, provincial and municipal governments agree as soon as possible on their respective responsibilities in a low-cost housing plan, particularly in providing the land and financing it.

"We are builders," they said, "and are satisfied that existing individual examples show that low-cost housing can be achieved by the industry when the land and financial problems have been surmounted.

FIGURES CITED

"A 10-year program of 12,000 publicly-assisted dwelling units per year might be built within a deficit of $1,700,000 the first year and $17,000,000 the 10th year. This is a small fraction of the $314,000,000 now annually paid in federal subsidies of various kinds."

They estimated home costs of from $4,500 to $6,000 as reasonable and practical, and urged abandonment of the concept of erecting new housing in downtown slum areas, on the ground that healthy children need the outdoor benefits of suburban and fringe areas.

WAGES DISCUSSED

As to wage contracts they suggested they be on a basis "which shall reflect increases or decreases in the cost-of-living index beyond an agreed number of points (say five points) as compared to the index figure existent at the date one year prior to the signing of a new agreement."

They noted a definite trend towards stabilization of construction costs, with increases in 1948 only half as large as those of 1947.

The association predicts, from available data, that 83,000 dwelling units will be built in 1949, compared with 79,359 in 1947.

It advocates quotation of firm prices by all members, particularly on projects that can be completed within a year.

Farm Pockets Are Fuller

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Canadian farmers received a record cash return from sale of their products during the first nine months of 1948, the amount totalling $1,562,814,000, the Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday.

This was more than 37 per cent higher than for the similar period of 1947. However, the increase was attributed "in large part" by the bureau to a "significant" increase in the prices paid for farm products and to the substantial sums paid out as grain equalization and adjusting payments by the Canadian Wheat Board and western grain companies.

In addition, farmers received a total of $15,823,000 in supplementary cash payments made under provisions of the Prairie Farm Assistance act of 1941, 1947 and 1948, the Wheat Acreage Reduction Act of 1946 and 1947 and the Prairie Farm Income Act of 1946 bringing their cash receipts for the period to $1,778,635,000 against $1,292,306,000 for the same period of 1947.

LOST STITCHES COSTLY

OSLO.—(CP)—A shortage of sewing machines in Norway is costing the country $4,000,000 yearly. During the war 10,000 sewing machines were destroyed and it is estimated that a sewing machine saves $40 on the family budget. The present shortage of 109,000 machines makes it a costly problem.

North Atlantic Security Pact Door Still Open

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Diplomatic sources said today the door is still wide open for Italy, Ireland, Denmark and other countries to join the North Atlantic Security Pact.

Informants said participation of these three nations, as well as Iceland, Portugal and Norway, was "hoped for" by the countries now negotiating the historic pact. Conferees include the United States, Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, Luxembourg and Holland.

The importance the United States government attaches to the treaty was underscored yesterday by Secretary of State Dean Acheson. He declared that peace and security can be maintained only by this country's joining with others to make clear in advance that any attack "would be met with overwhelming force."

FIVE MEN MINUS VOCAL CORDS CAN TALK

TORONTO, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Five men proved yesterday that they could talk, even after operations had removed their larynx or vocal cords. They do it by burping.

An example is Capt. Fred Hilchie of Toronto, who told the Toronto University refresher course for eye, ear, nose and throat physicians that he relaught himself to speak at 63. His larynx had been removed when he developed cancer of the throat.

He does it by swallowing air, burping at length, and forming vowels and consonants in the usual way.

Cable Rates Jump Up To 10 Cents

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The Federal Communications Commission today authorized new "emergency" increases in international communications rates to numerous points throughout the world. They range from two to 10 cents a word.

It also approved increases in ordinary press rates, ranging from one-half cent to two cents a word, in proportion to the increase in commercial rates.

No change was authorized for communications to British commonwealth points.

The International Savings Institute, established at Milan in 1925, is to be moved to Amsterdam.

Peace River Coal May Drive Gas Turbines

VICTORIA, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Peace River coal may drive the future locomotives of North America and open up a vast new industry for British Columbia.

PROBABLY the youngest president of a major industrial concern is Charles H. Percy, 29. He was just elected head of the Bell and Howell Company in Chicago, which does an $18,000,000 annual business manufacturing movie cameras. Percy started with concern when he was 17, and worked way up to the presidency.

J. M. Stewart, deputy minister of railways, said yesterday 360 pounds of the coal will be shipped to Columbus, Ohio, for tests in a gas turbine engine. Engineers of Bituminous Coal Research Inc. of Dunkirk, N.Y., have examined an analysis of the coal and said it looked like the best coal known in North America" for the jet engine.

MAKES PROBE

Robert E Swanson, chief provincial inspector of railways, investigated the project in November for the provincial government.

Speaking of the bituminous people, and the General Electric Company, which owns the only gas turbine engine at present in North America, he said:

"They were very anxious to try it because it might go a long way toward solving the problem of substituting coal for oil in gas turbines."

Gas turbines burning oil are cheaper to operate than steam or diesel engines, but coal-burning gas turbines would be cheaper still.

Acceptance of the Peace River coal might hasten the extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway into the area, provincial officials predict. An estimated 200,000,000 tons of coal have been blocked out by surveyors there.

Only a few hundred of more than 600,000 species of insects known are enemies of man.

Calgary Loans Trolley Buses To Regina City

CALGARY, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Mayor J. C. Watson disclosed last night that he had offered the city of Regina the loan of a number of trolley buses. The offer was made following the $1,000,000 fire that destroyed about 75 per cent of Regina's transit system equipment last Sunday.

Mayor Watson said he had made the offer in a long distance telephone conversation with mayor Menzies of Regina. He said Mayor Menzies had replied Regina needed gas buses rather than trolley buses. Mayor Watson said Calgary was not in a position to send any gas buses at present to Regina.

In 22 years the number of deaths from contagious diseases in Canada has dropped 78 per cent.

UPSIDE DOWN STORE THROWS CUSTOMERS OFF

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The world was pretty topsy-turvy yesterday for the customers of Rudolph Beckiers' grocery store.

It seems Beckiers had mentioned that world conditions are topsy-turvy these days. His wife and two daughters took him at his word and turned practically every salable article in the store upside down.

Customers craned their necks to read the labels on boxes and cans. They tipped their heads to find the correct date on the calendar. Even before they entered the store they were greeted by upside down displays in the windows.

In reply to questions from customers the Beckiers meicly said: "Everything looks all right to us." They offered gloves to customers who preferred to stand on their hands while shopping.

Woodbend Test Not Conclusive

By Harlo Jones

Good word from the Imperial Woodbend 14 extension of the Woodbend field was tempered with a note of caution injected today by an announcement that another drillstem test gave a pipe recovery of salt water along with a fairly good recovery of oil. Interval tested was 4,985 to 5,047 feet.

Total recovery during the test was 990 feet of oil and 60 feet of salt water along with a spray of oil at the surface.

In the Leduc field, it appears that Imperial has nine operations which should result in producing wells in the near future. At various stages very near to completion are Imperial Leduc 48 (injection well used during killing of Atlantic 3) 117, 121, 123, 124, 136, 140, 141 and 145.

SOME GAS AT CALMAR

Leduc-Calmar 1 made a test which showed a small amount of gas from the well's present bottom at 4,664 feet. It is planned to continue coring and testing.

According to a report from Toronto, a special meeting of shareholders of Royalite will be held in Calgary, Feb. 2 to consider splitting present shares into four. Imperial Oil recently sold its entire holdings, the controlling interest, in Royalite.

WILDCAT DEPTHS

Wildcat operations are reported as follows: Imperial Bon Accord, coring at 2,587; Imperial Clairmont, coring, 5,262; Imperial Gibbons, rig-3,191; Imperial Pibroch, cemented, ging; Imperial Armena 2, drilling, 758; Imperial Pigeon Lake, 5,200; Imperial Riverbend, 5,005; Imperial Shoepp, coring, 5,040; Imperial Spirit River, 7,630.

Imperial Whitemud is getting ready to spud while Imperial Wembley is rigging.

From Redwater comes word Anglo-Home Redwater 4 is expected to spud Friday while Anglo-Home Redwater 5 is at 630 feet.

Prospect of Help Sends Golds Up

Industrials And Metals Dip; Anglo-Canadian Hits $5.30

TORONTO, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Legislation to extend the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act forecast in the throne speech late Wednesday, sent gold stocks into higher ground on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Industrials and base metals dipped slowly into easier ground and western oils tightened in dull action. Volume was about 1,000,000 shares.

Golds opened strongly on brisk activity and then slipped towards mid-session under mild selling pressure. A wide list of junior issues forced their way ahead on gains ranging up to 10 cents and seniors were fractionally better.

Papers were in a one-way downward movement in the industrial groupings and utilities and steels were also easier. A few refining oils dipped fractionally and foods and textiles were mixed. Banks tightened on gains by Dominion Bank and Royal Bank.

Hudson Bay and Consolidated Smelters sagged in a weaker base metals list while Waite Amulet firmed in irregular action.

ANGLO-CANADIAN CLIMBS TO $5.25

CALGARY, Jan. 27.—Anglo-Canadian's rapid rise following reports from Black Diamond, again featured trading at Calgary where total volume reached 184,458. Anglo closed at 5.25 in a turnover of 1,545 shares. Commonwealth, in view of holdings in Calling Valley, climbed to 1.25, but closed at 1.12. Alliance sold 75,200 shares.

EDMONTON, Jan. 27.—Total receipts: Cattle 659, calves 47, hogs 869, sheep 60.

Thursday's cattle market was fairly active under liberal fresh receipts. Quality of today's run was about average, with only a small percentage of good to choice cattle on offer. Local buyers are not too aggressive and are bearing down on present price levels. Grading was close and a weak undertone continues to plague the market.

Practical top on choice steers 19.50, odd fancy singles up to 20.00. A few choice heifers traded at 18.00, most medium to good sold at 16.00-17.00. Cows steady with the week's decline, good lightweights up to 15.00, good heavies 14.00-14.50. Bulls steady at 16.00-18.50. Stockers and feeders slightly lower in sympathy with butcher classes. Good feeder steers 15.00-17.00, short keeps up to 17.50. Veal calves steady, good to choice 20.00-22.00. Hogs lower, grade A for shipment 29.00, grade A at plants 27.50. Sows liveweight on yards 18.00, sows dressed 19.50-21.00. Lambs steady, choice handyweights 20.00-23.00.

The following are the quotations:

Wheat Leads Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—(AP)—A rally got under way in grains today after prices had slumped to lows on the downturn of the last several weeks. Commission house buying and short-covering sparked the upturn, which was led by wheat.

Traders thought the rally was in part technical, stating the market had apparently been oversold. Buying followed news that the United States wanted a $2 bushel wheat maximum in any new international wheat agreement. Earlier, the British delegation had asked for a lower maximum.

Wheat closed ⅝-1⅛ higher; May $2.20⅛-¼. Corn was ⅝-1⅛ higher; May $1.43-$1.42⅞. Oats were ⅝-1¼ higher; May 71-71⅛. Rye was unchanged; May $1.61¼. Soybeans were 1⅛ to 2 cents higher; March $2.46½-¼.

Cash wheat: None. Corn: No. 2 yellow $1.40. Oats: No 1 heavy white 77¼. Barley nominal: Malting $1.12-48.

Oat Prices Advance After Early Weakness

WINNIPEG, Jan. 27.—(CP)—All grains firmed up today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange in sympathy with upturns at Chicago. Early selling by American accounts and offerings by commission houses contributed to an easier tone in oats, but locals turned to buying in the last half of the session and prices displayed a better tone.

Barley prices moved narrowly under light shipper demand.

Rye followed a similar pattern as coarse grains, displaying early weakness, but firming up when Chicago took on a better tone. Commission house and American selling appeared in the early stages but offerings dried up on the advance.

Class two wheat prices increased one cent from Wednesday.

Poultry Co-op. Makes Payment

Alberta Poulty Producers Ltd announces final payment on turkeys will be at the rate of three cents per pound, on the basis of 2½ cents in cash and one-half cent in reserve share certificates.

Producers marketing ducks and geese will get 2½ cents per pound with 1½ cents on chicken and fowl, on basis one cent in cash and one-half cent in reserve.

President K. V. Napier's statement also added that turkey growers who marketed their birds at low November prices will receive an additional 2½ cents per pound in cash. This will bring total payment to five cents and one-half cent in reserves.

Alberta Poultry Producers Ltd. is the largest poultry and egg marketing co-operative in the Dominion. During 1948 the organization handled 8,350,000 dozen eggs and 2,500,000 pounds of poultry and distributed 1,250,000 chicks to Alberta farmers.

Cheques covering current payments should be in the hands of members by the middle of February.

PLAY Match the Twins

A New Bulletin Contest!

IT'S FUN! IT'S EASY! JUST TRY!

You May be a Winner!

THIS IS ALL YOU HAVE TO DO TO WIN A PRIZE!

Commencing February 1, four twin pictures will appear each day for forty days in the columns of the Edmonton Bulletin. All pictures are numbered from 1 to 160 but will not appear in numerical order. (The numbering is for the convenience of contestants and to facilitate judging). The problem is for contestants to match the 160 pictures into the correct 80 sets of twins.

On the classified pages of the Edmonton Bulletin a matching frame will appear each day. Clip these matching frames each day and when you have matched the pictures into what you consider to be the correct sets, paste them on the matching frames and fill in the numbers below.

We caution you not to be hasty in pasting your pictures on the matching frames until you are absolutely certain in your own mind that they are twins. Pictures appearing later in the contest might cause you to change your mind, thus spoiling your frames if you have already pasted your pictures thereon.

At the conclusion of the contest an entry form will appear. This entry form, when properly filled out, together with your forty matching frames containing the eighty sets of twins, will constitute your entry. You will be given one week from the time the last four pictures appear to send in your entry. Neatness and strict adherence to the rules, which appear on this page, may be deciding factors, so read them over carefully.

A Hint or Two . .

MATCH THE TWINS! WIN $1,000 CASH Plus

Grand Merchandise Prizes

On this page are eight pictures of twins that will appear in the contest. On observation it is very evident that the two little darlings numbered 101 and 43 are twins. Now 83 and 90 look like twins, but are they? We will let you decide. Remember, pictures may appear later that might cause you further study. Now some would take pictures 131 and 154 to be twins, but we will tell you they are not. The twin to 131 is 61. At first glance you may not think so, but on closer study you will see the resemblance. No, the remaining pictures, 130 and 154 are not twins—their twin brother or sister will appear in the contest series. Can you match them?

There are no catches, to our knowledge, in this contest, such as twin pictures having been taken at a variance of ages beyond two years, as all pictures appearing were submitted in our Twin Photo Contest recently concluded under the ruling that separate photos must have been taken within two years of each other.

The key to the solution and the original photographs have been sealed by the Contest Editor and, at the commencement of the contest, will be placed in a safety deposit box of the Royal Bank of Canada, (Main Branch).

CONTEST RULES

1. This contest is open to everyone residing the Province of Alberta, Lloydminster and district, Peace River Block and Northern British Columbia with the following exceptions: Employees of the Edmonton Bulletin and their families; employees of the Bulletin Press Engraving and their families.
2. The contest will consist of a series of 160 pictures of twins which will appear in the daily issues of the Edmonton Bulletin, four a day for forty days. The problem is to match the pictures into eighty correct sets of twins. All pictures have been selected from entries in the Edmonton Bulletin's recently concluded "Twin Photo Contest" and as such were submitted as twins whose pictures were not taken more than two years apart.
3. A CONTESTANT MAY ONLY SUBMIT ONE ENTRY. An entry consists of eighty sets of twins . . . 160 pictures. For the convenience of contestants and to facilitate judging, all pictures are numbered. Each competitor must save the complete 160 pictures and as they match them into sets of twins, place them on the matching frames provided, side by side. Then enter the number of each twin picture of your matched set of twins, in the spaces provided on the bottom of the matching frames. On the last day the last four pictures appear a special entry form will be provided with complete instructions. This entry form when filled out must accompany your complete set of twins.
4. If two or more contestants tie for any prize, neatness and strict adherence to the rules may be deciding factors, but the judges at their discretion may group and divide prizes equally between them or may adopt other methods as seem to them fair to arrive at an equitable distribution of prizes, or may require those tied to take part in a tie-breaker. If, it is at all possible a tie-breaker will be avoided.
5. The distribution of merchandise prizes will be based on retail value, and the Edmonton Bulletin, after awarding prizes will not enter into any correspondence, telephone calls, inquiries, etc., relative to the exchanging of prizes.
6. The correct solutions will appear in the Edmonton Bulletin commencing two weeks after the close of the contest at the rate of two sets of twins a day for forty days. In the meantime they are known to no one. A key to the solution has been drawn up and sealed and together with the pictures which have also been sealed, placed in a safety deposit box. Each entry when made becomes the property of the Edmonton Bulletin. The Edmonton Bulletin will not be responsible for entries delayed or lost in the mails. Competitors' entries which are especially bound or otherwise embellished will not be shown preference.
7. The decision of the judges in awarding prizes shall be final. Upon entering the contest the contestant automatically accepts these rules as binding in all matters affecting the contest and accepts any decisions arising out of them made by the judges, as final and conclusive. The Edmonton Bulletin will not enter into any correspondence or discussion with any individual regarding any decision of the judges.

JAMES COLIN McLEAN

THE death of James Colin McLean, Monday, Jan. 10, 1949, in the Viking hospital, marked the passing of a well known and highly respected citizen of the Irma district.

The deceased was born in Bowmanville, April 25, 1863, being the only son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James McLean. There he received his public and high school education.

After being employed in Bowmanville and Toronto he came to Edmonton in 1905 and worked with the Hudson's Bay Co. In 1907 he and his father took up homesteads northeast of Irma and in the following year in company with Don McCready, now station agent at Jasper, drove from Edmonton and settled in the district. Later Mr. McCready became the first station agent at Irma. In 1909 Mr. McLean and his father brought in over the new Grand Trunk Pacific line the first carload of settlers' effects to be unloaded at Irma.

On April 12, 1910 he married Kate McCauley, of Edmonton, coming immediately to their homestead where they resided continuously until the spring of 1943 when they moved to Irma.

During this period he was trustee of Education Point school district for 21 years, later serving on the board of the Wainwright school division. At the time of his passing he was secretary of the board of the Irma United Church. He was keenly interested in the welfare of the community and always ready to lend a helping hand to his fellow men.

He leaves to mourn his passing his wife and two daughters, Mrs. F. C. Saville of Hardisty and Mrs. R. B. Kirkman of Irma, four grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. F. M. Cryderman of Bowmanville and Mrs. T. E. Higginbotham, Vancouver.

The funeral was held on Thursday, Jan. 13th, from Kiefer's hall, with Rev. H. W. Inglis officiating, assisted by the choir of the Irma United Church. The hall was filled to overflowing with relatives and friends, who had gathered to pay their last respects to the deceased. The pallbearers were: Messrs. Kieth Coffin, George Fischer, Donald Gunn, Syd Knowles, Ross McFarland and Verne Sampson. Interment was made in the family plot of the Irma Cemetery with Mr. F. B. Kirkman, Lougheed, funeral director, in charge.

Relatives and friends [illegible] a distance included his sister, Mrs. T. E. Higginbotham, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Deeton, Calgary; Mrs. Charles McCleary, Camrose; Mrs. Alex G. Campbell, Edmonton; Mrs. George Whitson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Whitson, Mr. and Mrs. Hector Whitson, Mr. and Mrs. Russel Whitson, Mannville; Mrs. Fred Watts, Wainwright; Mr. John Kelly, Heath; Mr. J. Wedbourne, Edmonton; Mrs. Saville, Harry and Bill of Hardisty.

Floral tributes of love and esteem were received from the following: His loving Wife and Family; Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Cryderman, Bowmanville; Mrs. T. E. Higginbotham, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Deeton, Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. William Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hardy and families; Mr. and Mrs. Alex G. Convention Discusses Horticulture Plants

Development of horticultural plants for the prairies is to be discussed at the sixth annual convention of the Western Canadian Society of Horticulture which opened in Edmonton this morning.

The three-day convention is being held in the Masonic Temple and 75 horticulturists, mainly professionals, from the prairie region are expected to attend.

Morning session of the convention Thursday was confined to registration and other preliminaries pending the arrival of a large number of delegates from Saskatchewan and Manitoba, delayed by tardy train service.

Discussion at the convention will be on four main themes, improving fruit plants, improving vegetable plants, improving ornamental and shelter plants and the place of the non-professional plant hybridizer in prairie horticulture.

R. J. Hilton, associate professor of horticulture at U. of A. will preside at the convention in the absence of President H. D. Hargrave, superintendent of the provincial horticultural station at Brooks.

A banquet for the horticulturists, sponsored by the Alberta Department of Agriculture will be held Saturday evening in the Macdonald Hotel. Hon. David A. Ure, Alberta agriculture minister will be the guest speaker.

Power Network To Be Explained

Edmonton's underground electrical distribution network will be explained to the local branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada at 8:15 p.m., Wednesday, Feb. 2, by two members of the city electric light department.

Stanley Hampton and C. L. Monington will address the EIC at the Seven Seas restaurant. Those wishing to attend are urged to make reservations at 23097 before Monday.

Tenders For Electrical Equipment

Sealed tenders will be received by the Edmonton Public School Board at the office of the undersigned up to twelve o'clock noon, February 4th, 1949, for the supply of fluorescent lighting fixtures and rigid conduit.

Specification sheet available on request.

Notice of Application to The Legislative Assembly

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that The City of Edmonton will apply at the next Session of the Legislature of the Province of Alberta for the passing the Acts constituting The Edmonton Charter to authorize Council;

1. To regulate ambulance services operating in Edmonton for public use and to require that ambulances responding to calls shall carry suitable equipment and be accompanied by a person having valid medical or first aid qualifications

2. To provide that where sewer and water mains are extended along highways abutting on the outer zone of the City, that parcels of land and abutting such extension of sewer and water mains shall be liable to taxation at the same rate as are otherwise in the same manner as parcels of land situate within the inner zone.

3. To pass bylaws requiring owners, lessees or occupants of any parcel of land within the City to keep the same and any merchandise or goods deposited in the open air thereon, in a clean, neat and safety condition.

4. To exercise such powers of an insurance company pursuant to the provisions of the Alberta Insurance Act as will enable the Council to establish and maintain a plan of municipal insurance to cover losses which may occur to property of the City by reason of fire or other casualty, including power to re-insure any or such risks as may be covered by such plan with any insurance company lawfully authorized to deal in re-insurance of the risks.

5. To provide that in any case where it is deemed necessary the Council may authorize any official of the City or other person Council may designate to make application to a Judge of the Supreme or District Court for an order to remove to a hospital or other institution for the care or treatment of the City who by reason of age or mental or physical infirmity is incapable of taking physical care of himself or herself.

6. To provide that any highway may be closed solely with respect to any class or classes of vehicular traffic or solely with respect to any class or classes of pedestrian traffic and to provide for the proper enforcement of any such closing either by way of the erection of barricades or by the adoption of such other means as Council may consider necessary or expedient.

7. To acquire by expropriation proceedings, where necessary, any parcel of land or any estate or interest therein required in or in connection with any plan of development which Council may bona fide deem to be in the public interest, whether such plan of development is to be undertaken solely by the City or in conjunction with any other party.

8. To adopt a system of imposing a frontage rate in the nature of a perpetual charge against parcels of land within the City abutting highways which are now or which may hereafter be provided with improvements consisting of paved or gravelled roads or paved or wooden sidewalks or with concrete curbing, to cover the property owner's share of the cost of the construction, maintenance, repair or reconstruction of such improvements.

9. Such further and other amendments as Council may deem necessary.

DATED at Edmonton, Alberta, this 25th day of January, A.D. 1949.

T. E. GARSIDE,

City Solicitor.

City Speakers At Dairy Meet

Several Edmontonians will be among the speakers when Alberta Dairymen's Association discusses problems of production and processing at an annual convention in Calgary Feb. 8, 9 and 10.

Prizes for outstanding achievement in dairying will be presented by Hon. D. A. Ure, minister of agriculture, when he addresses general sessions of the convention at a banquet Feb. 9.

DISCUSSION FORUM

The following morning on a radio discussion forum, J. Butterfield, R. P. Dixon and D. H. McCallum, all of Edmonton, and W. G. Hooper of Vermilion will give their opinions on "streamlining dairy cattle management."

Impressions of the Royal Winter Fair will be brought to dairymen attending producers' sessions Feb 8, by R. C. Briggs, South Edmonton, while manufacturers' groups will hear R. Stanley, Northern Alberta Dairy Pool manager, and M. Baker, Woodland Dairy, discuss the cream quality program.

Other Edmontonians who will speak during the sessions include B. J. Whitehead, district agriculturist; Dr. J. B. Linneloe, dairy bacteriologist; L. H. Silcox, dairy factory inspection supervisor; Dr. H. R. Thornton, University dairying department; Bert Hanson, South Edmonton Creamery Co., and J. Mader, department of agriculture.

JUDGING EVENT

Ice cream competition judging will be conducted by Prof. F. W. Wood of the University of Alberta and W. J. Hosford, Edmonton, will lead a discussion of suitable means of ventilating dairy barns.

Canada's decision to legalize margarine is also expected to receive attention of the dairymen during business sessions of the convention.

Pair Sent To High Court

Two city merchants were committed to Supreme Court for trial on a charge of false pretences after a preliminary hearing in police court here.

They are Philip and Louis Liebermann, brothers and proprietors of the Imperial Furniture store, 10305 101 street.

Joint charge against the pair reads that they alleged irregularities in assisting a veteran to realize cash on his re-establishment credits, rather than household furnishings. Amount involved was approximately $900.

Bail for each accused was set at $2,000 and they were released on their own recognizance.

A. W. Miller appeared for the Liebermanns and J. D. Maclean was special crown prosecutor.

Video, Films To Be Probed

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—(CP)—The latest tactical move of the new parliamentary session bounded innocently out of one 78-word sentence in the Throne Speech yesterday.

It was a government proposal that would curb opposition assaults on government pet or not so potentially-touchy subjects as television, the National Film Board and a national library.

The government, the speech said, "intends at an early date, to establish a Royal Commission" to examine the activities of the federal government relating to a wide range of subjects.

Qualified sources said it had been decided to specifically make it clear that parliament does not discuss matters before a Royal Commission, a quasi-judicial body. Whether the proposal for a commission sets off an opposition attack remains to be seen.

Meanwhile, Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, chancellor of the University of Toronto, and former high commissioner to London, is prominently mentioned as a likely chairman of the commission.

The brief reference to its functions is expected to be made it clear that whoever tackles the job will have a long arduous task on his hands.

Jewish Church Plans Anniversary Month Services

Special program of anniversary month observance in Calgary Feb. 28 to Feb. 25, is announced by Rabbi B. Leon Hurwitz of the congregation Beth Sholom.

Following is the program: Jan. 28, Youth League Interfaith Fellowship Sabbath; Feb. 4, Youth League Interracial Fellowship Sabbath; Feb. 11, Hillel Sabbath (11).

Feb. 12, Jewish Week Sabbath; Feb. 25, Anniversary and Brotherhood Week Sabbath.

Pulpit will be shared by Rabbi Hurwitz and Rev. R. S. Fraiks, president of Edmonton Ministerial Association.

Services all commence at 8:15 p.m.

On Sunday, Jan. 30, the Beth Sholom anniversary meeting will be held with an adult education session tentatively scheduled for the evening of Jan. 31.

LOVE-MAKING TECHNIQUE was being demonstrated in Los Angeles by Frenchman Claude Marsan, who calls himself an expert, until the law caught up with him. After a repeat performance in court, he was convicted of staging a lewd show and will be sentenced in February. His model for court show was red-haired Barbara Weir.

CALGARY CRASHES HOSPITALIZE TWO

CALGARY, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Two men are in hospital here today suffering from injuries received in two traffic accidents on district highways last night.

Injured are Arthur Reeves of nearby Bowness, Alta., who is suffering from serious head injuries, and Herbert Walton of Calgary, also suffering head injuries.

Mr. Reeves was injured when the automobile in which he was riding ran into the rear of an unlighted truck parked on the Drumheller highway at Keoma, Alta., about 30 miles northeast of Calgary. Mr. Reeves was hurled through the windshield. Three other persons in the vehicle escaped uninjured.

Icy roads were blamed for the accident in which Mr. Walton was injured. His auto collided with a truck two miles north of Airdrie, Alta. He suffered a deep head gash.

Cheque Record

OTTAWA, Jan., 27. — (CP) — Cheques cashed against individual accounts during 1948 exceeded all previous years at $80,687,448,000 compared with $74,498,093,000 in 1947, the Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday.

8 Canadian Internees Refused New Appeal

MONTREAL, Jan. 27.—(CP)—A petition by Adrien Arcand, leader of the pre-war pro-Fascist National Unity party, and seven other wartime internees seeking return of crown exhibits and re-opening of the government's case against them was rejected yesterday by Chief Judge Edouard Archambault in criminal court.

The eight asked that fingerprints and photographs used against them be destroyed, that certain documents used in their case be returned to them and that either the court cases against them be re-opened or that the complaints against them be dismissed because of lack of jurisdiction on the part of the court.

PRINTS DESTROYED

Judge Archambault said it had been proved that the RCMP destroyed all fingerprints and photographs in conformity with defence of Canada regulations.

He expressed belief that the petitioners now are free of the charges lodged against them under the defence regulations and which led to their internment. Judge Archambault added, however, that he had no jurisdiction to rule now on this matter.

HEARING IN 1940

The eight were given preliminary hearing in 1940 on the defence regulations charges and were interned on orders of the late justice minister Lapointe.

The group inclued Dr. Noel Decarie, J. Romeo Barck, Hughes Clement, Leopold Brunet, Marious Gatien, Paul Giguere and Henri Arcand.

Arcand, Decarie and Barck have previously obtained petitions of right enabling them to sue the government for damages arising from their internment.

PHILOSOPHER REACHES 102

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—(AP)—John Donaldson, who observed his 102nd birthday yesterday, says it isn't fair to compare modern age with "way back when."

"Some things were better then," he said, "and some things are better now. It's just good to be alive."

Donaldson quit his job as a bookkeeper at a hospital when he reached 100.

Canada Shows Sales Balance

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—(CP)—The bureau of statistics reported yesterday that Canada had a sales balance on her international security transactions in November for the first time since July and only the fourth time in the last two years.

Net sales to all countries in the month amounted to $1,500,000, with sales at $21,800,000 and purchases at $20,200,000. Transactions with all countries in the first 11 months of 1948 resulted in net purchases of $17,200,000, compared with net purchases of $13,900,000 in the same period of 1947 and net sales of $137,400,000 in the first 11 months of 1946.

The sales balance in November was due for the most part to an excess of $1,500,000 in purchases by the United Kingdom over sales to that country.

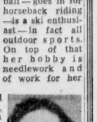
Don Letcher



Ann Elliot

Donny Letcher, 12, and in grade 7 at St. Theresa's, has lots to smile about. He likes school and stands high in his class. He plays hockey with the Trail Rangers and they have won their first game. He raises rabbits and has four, as well as his dog Prince. Donny is the man of his family and takes over all the outdoor chores as well as helping his mother in the house.

This happy smile belongs to out-door-girl Rita Knight. She is 12 years old, in grade 7 at Parkdale and likes school, as she enjoys everything. She plays baseball — goes in for horseback riding —is a ski enthusiast — in fact all outdoor sports. On top of that her hobby is needlework and she does a lot of work for her mother.

Poised and lovely Ann Elliot, 12 years old, is a grade 7 pupil at Parkdale. She likes her studies and her favorite sports are baseball and swimming. Ann helps her mother regularly and her hobby is shell-craft.
